CITY'S ADVANCEMENT BY CO-OPERATION TOLD AT C. OF C. ANNUAL BANQUET

All Civic Leaders, Organizations, Citizens Are Praised For Part in Growth of Glendale; Needs For Future Are Briefly Outlined

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff.

Constructive cooperation, the keynote of the annual banquet f the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, was clearly sounded by hat organization and by other service clubs at the Tuesday fternoon club last night, when the accomplishments of the hamber of Commerce for the past year were reviewed before crowd that filled the banquet hall of the club to its capacity.

In his introductory remarks resident W. E. Hewitt paid a ibute to the manner in which her civic organizations had coerated with the Chamber of ommerce in its various plans ring the year, helping it to acmplish much for the benefit d advancement of Glendale, aising the willingness of the rious clubs to assist in carrying t any community plan that ould foster the gowth of the city.

Encourage Industries

President Hewitt stated that ere are now seventy manufacring plants in Glendale, whose nual payroll amounts to $2,-0,000, and he urged that every couragement be given to other dustrial concerns to settle here d develop their business in endale.

He also urged that the various y departments be strongly supted by the citizens, and essed the need for more acre on which wells to supply the y with water could be drilled. The city's present water supply, stated, comes from the wells at are now in operation and m the Verdugo mountains, h a reservoir of 7,500,000 gals capacity already built and other of double that capacity der construction, while plans under consideration for the lding of still another immense ervoir to keep pace with the y's growth.

Other City Needs

Other needs of Glendale, Presint Hewitt stated, are for an-er sub-station for the city light nt; more men and equipment bring the fire department up the standard at which it should maintained to afford adequate tection to a city of this size; arding against the menace of od and fire; securing more ks; enlargement of the pres-school system to meet the ds of the rapidly increasing ulation of the city. The po- department of the city, Mr. witt stated, was well conducted efficient.

The banquet was opened by the ging of "America," led by J. hur Myers, and accompanied Mrs. Helen Sawyer, followed the invocation by Rev. E. E. rd, pastor of the First Baptist rch. The speakers' table, at ch most of the guests of honor e seated, was decorated with eral of the immense silver cups t have been won by Glendale's ts in the Rose Tournaments ast years, each cup being d with a wealth of beautiful

PASTOR PICKS 'PLAY BALL' AS TOPIC

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher Is Speaker at Banquet of Glendale C. of C.

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

Introduced by Mattison B. Jones as a man who has lectured in forty-seven states and reached 4,000,000 people with his message in the thirty years of his ministry, Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher of the Trinity Baptist church, Los Angeles, last night delivered the address of the evening at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, choosing for his subject "Play Ball," and showing how the identical rules of baseball and football apply in the great game of life.

Well might Dr. Brougher choose such a subject for his address. He was, in 1890, a member of the varisity football team of the U. of C., and his younger son, James Brougher, Jr., played on the championship team of this university last fall.

Must Be Best Type

"Anyone who will apply the principles of modern sport to the game of life is bound to succeed," declared Dr. Brougher. "That Wellington won the battle of Waterloo on the football field at Eton is well known. A ball player must be the best type of manhood. He must be in the pink of physical condition. He must exercise self-control. He must be a specialist. He must be able to co-operate. He must be willing to sacrifice. He must be cheerful. Are not these the rules of the game of life? Then why not apply them? Is your business or profession not as important as a game of ball?"

Dr. Brougher then took up separately each of the above rules that apply to sport and applied them to life, in an address that was vigorous, eloquent and inspiring, enlivened with succinct anec-

Frock Coats and Silk Hats Put on By Labor Cabinet

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's Labor cabinet held its first formal meeting this afternoon to formulate policies. Most of the Laborites appeared in frock coats and silk hats, having cast off the derbies they wore in the old days as undignified. It was announced the railroad strike was discussed at length.

RED LEADERS CALLED TO COUNCIL

Leon Trotzky, Commissioner Of War In Government, Summons Session

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Leon Trotzky, people's commissar for war in the Russian government, summoned a council of war today to deal with any emergency which may arise from the death of Lenine, said a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen quoting advices received there from Moscow.

By WILLIAM J. RESWICK
For International News Service.

MOSCOW, Jan. 23.—The body of Nicolai Lenine (Vladimirvitch Ulyanov), the founder of soviet government, was brought to Moscow today from his country estate while all Russia mourned with unprecedented demonstrations of the grief over his death.

All night long the snow filled, moon-bathed streets of this city were filled with silent commands that moved back and forth. They were comrades of Lenine, workers and former soldiers in the army who sobbed and whispered to one another.

Early in the morning firemen were busy in the great tradesmen union hall, draping it with black. A picture of Lenine was hung upon the wall with bands of crepe twined about it.

In Royal Palace

Lenine's body will lie in state in the same room where the bodies of Prince Kropotkin and other men of family rested in the days of the old empire.

Trades union hall in the old days was a royal palace. Instead of nobles, attired in brilliant uniforms, the place was filled today

Julian Silent Over Fracas With Chaplin

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—The formal signed statement of Charles Chaplin, screen comedian, that C. C. Julian, Southern California oil promoter, was the man with whom he was involved in a fracas in a Hollywood cafe Sunday night, and the declarations of Mildred Harris, Chaplin's former wife, and Peggy Browne, film actress, cafe employes and others that Julian was the "man," was today greeted by the oil man with a chuckle as he said:

"Well, I guess I haven't anything to say."

Hitherto Julian has vehemently denied he had been involved in the fisticuff rumpus with the actor.

Arrange Funeral Of William C. Ralston

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Funeral arrangements were being made today for William C. Ralston, prominent figure in the mining business of California, Nevada, Utah and Idaho for the past quarter of a century, who died at a local hospital from pneumonia. A former speaker of the Assembly, state Senator, seven year sub-United States treasurer and candidate for governor in 1914, Ralston played an important role in state politics. He was a son of the late William C. Ralston, builder of the Palace hotel, and was 61 years old.

Hughes and Geddes Conclude Rum Pact

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The treaty between the United States and Great Britain to extend the right of search and seizure beyond the three-mile limit as a means of checking rum running off American coasts was signed at the state department today by Secretary of State Hughes and Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador.

"DOUBLE, DOUBLE, TOIL AND TROUBLE, FIRE BURN AND CAULDRON BUBBLE"

DISTRICT ATTORNEY SAYS DINES IS CONCEALING TRUTH

Prosecutor Asks Court to Place 'Playmate' of Actresses Under Bond of $10,000

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Charging outright that Courtland S. Dines, wealthy Denver oil man and asserted "playmate" of Mabel Normand and Edna Purviance, who was shot on New Year's night by Horace A. Greer, chauffeur for Miss Normand, is attempting to "cover up" the facts concerning the shooting, District Attorney Asa Keyes today asked Justice Hanby to place Dines under $10,000 bond as a material witness in the case.

Keyes asserted that the "truth concerning the shooting has not been brought to light," at Greer's preliminary hearing and in an affidavit presented to the court, alleged he had reason to believe that Dines might attempt to leave the state rather than appear as a witness in court.

Jury May Probe

A county grand jury investigation of Justice Hanby's charges of conspiracy between lawyers and witnesses in the case to suppress facts concerning the shooting and wounding of Dines, may follow Greer's preliminary hearing, it was indicated today.

Justice Hanby's announced determination to get at the bottom of the case and behind the "I don't remember" stories of Dines, Miss Normand and Edna Purviance was taken as a forecast of a grand jury investigation, particularly, if Hanby, because of lack of evidence, is forced to dismiss the charge against Greer.

May Ask Freedom

Greer's attorneys, S. S. Hahn, and Clarence Conlin, were prepared today to demand a dismissal of the charge against Greer on the ground that the prosecution had failed to give evidence to justify Greer being held to superior courts. Greer's attorneys based their demand on the claim that the prosecution had failed to establish the corpus delicti, or "the body of the crime."

Dines, when court was held at his bedside, testified he could not swear that Greer shot him and that he might have reached for a whiskey bottle with which to strike Greer before the shots were fired. Both Miss Normand and Miss Purviance "failed to remember" many important details incident to the shooting when they testified.

Asks Continuance

Keyes' action today followed the sensational charges by Justice Hanby yesterday that there was a conspiracy between attorneys and witnesses in the case to withhold the facts concerning the shooting, and positive indications today that Hanby would be compelled to dismiss the charge against Greer because of Dines' unac-

VIOLENCE STARTS IN RAIL CRISIS

British Strike Breakers Are Stoned; Plot to Wreck Train Discovered

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The first disorder in the national strike of locomotive firemen and engineers, was reported from Northampton today.

A fireman was stoned. Strike breakers were attacked with stones and other missles at Glasgow.

There was evidence that an attempt was made to wreck a train between Glasgow and Dundee.

Minister Quits Union

J. H. Thomas resigned as secretary of the International Union of Railway Men because he accepted the post of secretary of state for the colonies in the Macdonald cabinet. It is expected that other members of the government who hold posts in labor organizations will resign them.

President May Call Conference of Bankers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—President Coolidge may call Chicago and Minneapolis bankers to Washington to discuss plans for extending credit to smaller banks in the middle west, it was learned here today.

Reports reaching the White House, it was said, indicate that Comptroller of the Currency Dawes and Director Meyer of the war finance corporation are having some difficulty in lining up the larger banks in the Coolidge plan to bolster up some of the smaller banks.

Senator Demands Sinclair Contract Be Held Invalid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. The Teapot dome case came to the floor of the Senate today with a dramatic bang.

Senator T. H. Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, demanded action on his resolution to invalidate the contract negotiated between Ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair for the great naval oil reserve. And in the course of a sensational speech, the Arkansas senator shouted:

"Secretary Fall stands before the bar of public opinion indicted for the gravest crime a man can commit—treason!"

SINCLAIR COMING BACK TO TESTIFY

Magnate to Explain Payment To Fall's Foreman In Teapot Dome Quiz

HAVRE, Jan. 23.—"I will return to the United States as soon as it is convenient for me to do so," Harry F. Sinclair, American oil magnate, declared here today upon his arrival on board the Paris. Sinclair said he would so inform the senate committee investigating the circumstances surrounding the leasing of Teapot Dome oil fields. Sinclair has been asked by the committee to return to the United States at once to testify on Archie Roosevelt's charge that the Sinclair company paid to the ranch foreman of the former Secretary of the Interior Fall $68,000.

"I've been before the committee four or five times," Sinclair said. "They dismissed me before I decided to go to Europe. I expect to go to Berlin for conferences after I get through in Paris. I probably will return to the United States in about four or five weeks. I do not intend to go to Russia."

WOMAN ENDS LIFE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.— A fashionably dressed young woman who registered under the name of Ruth Taylor, New York, committed suicide in the Sacramento hotel today according to police reports. She was said by police to have taken a deadly poison.

FOUR CHILDREN ESCAPE FROM BURNING RESIDENCE AS MOTHER LIES DYING

Mrs. Harry Haines of San Fernando Sends Bullet Into Head; Eldest Son Saves His Three Brothers and Sisters

Suicide is the temporary verdict of the Los Angeles police on the sensational death early today of Mrs. Harry Haines, who was discovered in her flaming house at San Fernando shortly after midnight with a bullet in her head. A further investigation is being made, however, on the theory she may have been murdered.

The fire was discovered by the woman's eldest son, who was wakened by the smoke and found the bathroom a mass of flames. Though only a child, his prompt action saved the lives of his three brothers and sisters. Helping them out, he at the same time called frantically to the neighbors for aid.

Billy Haines, age 10, proved himself the hero of the fire, police investigation today showed.

Awakened early today to find the house afire and his mother dying from a bullet wound in her head, Billy Haines rescued one of his little brothers from death in the fire, was nearly overcome by smoke while attempting to save another brother and sister, and finally he called neighbors who aided him to rescue the children and help extinguish the blaze.

The bravery of the little boy was revealed when police launched an investigation to determine whether his mother committed suicide or was murdered. Mrs. Haines died while en route to a hospital.

It was when Billy Haines' cries were answered that friends rushed in and found Mrs. Haines in bed dying, a gaping hole in her head and a pistol beside her on the bed. An alarm was turned in and the San Fernando fire department arrived in time to save the house from total loss.

Claim Family Trouble

Harry Haines, the slain woman's husband, who is reported to have been staying with a brother, arrived on the scene and was questioned by the police. He was until January 17 a member of the Los Angeles police department and is now understood to

FIVE PERISH AS HOME IS BURNED

Mother Dies In Vain Effort To Rescue Baby From Flaming House

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 23.—A mother and her four children were burned to death today in a fire that destroyed their home at Middleport, near here.

The mother, Mrs. Andrew Harville, perished when, breaking away from neighbors, she ran back into the blazing structure in a vain attempt to rescue her baby, aged 1 year. Their bodies were found less than five feet from the doorway that led to safety. The other children were aged 9, 8 and 6.

The husband and another child who was visiting relatives are the only survivors of the family.

LABOR MINISTRY TAKES UP TASKS

MacDonald Cabinet Faced With Big Problems In Running Britain

LONDON, Jan. 23.—England's first Labor government under the stewardship of J. Ramsay Macdonald, began to function today under circumstances which will test its skill and strength to the utmost.

Arthur Henderson, the new secretary for home affairs, was the first member to begin active duties. He sent word to the striking railway locomotive engineers and firemen that the government desires an early conference in an effort to settle the trouble.

Many Difficulties

Some of the difficulties under which the Labor government will operate are roughly grouped as follows: The railway strike; bitter antagonism from the Tories and many Liberal members of commons; differences with France over reparations; secession in the Rhineland; war debts and the French blockade of the British zone of military occupation at Cologne; widespread unemployment; decreased trade.

BARNEY GOOGLE, CARRYING FORTUNE, WINS

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 23.—Carrying with him undivided support of racing fans, Barney Google, a 2-year-old colt, won his initial start this afternoon by coming home in front in the first race, a race of three furlongs. Bookmakers were flooded with bets on the colt, the betting being inspired by workouts and a sentimental regard for the character made famous in the comic strip. The wagering was so heavy on the colt that his price was forced down to odds-on. Barney Google ran the distance in 36 seconds flat, 1 and 2-5 seconds behind track records.

MAKES LONG BEACH 'SUMMER CAPITAL'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Governor Friend W. Richardson has decided to make his summer home at Long Beach, according to an announcement made today by the chief executive. The Richardsons will occupy an apartment at the beach city, moving from Sacramento early in June, it was stated.

SEAMEN LOST ON WRECKED CRUISER

Captain of Tacoma and Three Sailors Die as Ship Is Broken Up

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.— Three men died with Captain Herbert G. Sparrow in the wreck of the cruiser Tacoma, on Blanquilla reefs, instead of two as at first reported, according to a message received by the navy department today from Consul Wood.

These were: Edwin S. Herrick, Framingham, Mass.; Homer S. Slusser, Bristol, Conn.; Solomon Sidin, New York.

It was assumed from Consul Wood's message that the death of Captain Sparrow and his three men occurred while the ship was breaking up on the reefs and before rescue vessels arrived. There were 48 men with the captain standing guard on the wrecked cruiser, according to the last report received from the officer now dead. The remainder of the crew, 278 in number, were put ashore at Vera Cruz.

Pays $100 Fine For Transporting Liquor

Ralph L. Brown, proprietor of a lunch room and soda fountain at 602 San Fernando road, was found guilty by a jury of eleven men and one woman in Judge F. H. Lowe's court yesterday on a charge of transporting liquor. He was acquitted on a second charge of being in possession of whiskey. The jury also recommended clemency.

After taking the matter under advisement, Judge Lowe fined him $100 this morning, which was paid.

Brown's defense was that although the liquor was found in his car which he was driving, it belonged to a friend for whom he was doing a favor, by taking it to an address which his friend had furnished him.

Presents Pupils

Miss Marion Chappell, a talented young Glendale musician, was recently presented by her teacher, Mrs. Eva Cunningham in a piano recital, assisted by Ethelwyn Kent, reader.

Miss Chappell's numbers were well chosen and the compositions of masters as well as those of modern composers were given and the interpretation and technique of each selection would have been a credit to a musician much older in year. Miss Chappell is only 13 years old and is a real student possessing considerable musical ability. Her many friends who heard her feel that she will make a place in the musical life of Glendale and southern California.

The readings given by Miss Kent were greatly enjoyed and both Miss Kent and Miss Chappell were the recipients of many beautiful flowers and other tokens of appreciation from their schoolmates and other friends.

BUILDING TOTALS REACH $668,218

January Figures Holding Up Steadily as Compared With Last Year

Business yesterday at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, lacked just $200 of reaching $50,000, making the total for 1924, $668,218.

With the exception of the $400,000 permit granted to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital for their new building in January, 1923, permits for 1924 are forging ahead of the total granted during the corresponding number of days last year, and without the assistance of large permits of this nature will run the record of 1923 a close race.

The following permits were issued yesterday:

Josephine Dahlman, 7 rooms and garage, 1108 North Jackson	$ 8,400
Jackson & McAlister, 5 rooms and garage, 810 Portola	5,400
V. D. Little, 6 rooms and garage, 1425 North Raymond	5,000

Mangy Mutt Wins Status in High Court

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 23.—The mangy alley mutt and the beribboned animal of the dog shows have been recognized by the Wisconsin Supreme Court as perfect gentlemen, with gentleness to be compared with that of a nursemaid.

The court reversed a judgment for $935 awarded Miss Helen E. Hagenau, of Milwaukee, who was bitten by several dogs, when it was found they were not owned by the person against whom judgment was rendered. Justice Doerfler commented:

"Dogs belong to a distinct class of domestic animals. They are not outlaws. They serve many useful purposes, are the companions and playmates of youth and the household pets of families. They are protectors of life and property and generally manifest human instincts and emotions to a very marked degree. They are now considered property and the owners are protected in their property rights by law."

Perambulating Pair Touring in Southwest

DAYTONA, Fla., Jan. 23.—Carrying their two babies and luggage in a pushcart, J. S. Leddy and his wife passed through this city recently en route to Orlando, Fla. They said they had walked from Goshen, Ind., passing through fifteen states on the trip. Leaving Indiana last August, they walked through several eastern states and then turned southward.

BINNEY IN BAD

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Jan. 23.—H. J. "Josh" Binney, 300 pound film comedian, who came here several months ago and established a studio, is free on $1,000 bond pending a hearing on a warrant from Butte, Mont., charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. It is understood the Montana charge is in connection with the establishment of a film corporation there. Binney will fight extradition on the charge, which he denies.

SHIP IS BURNED

BALBOA, Jan. 23.—Fire which was caused by a cigarette today damaged the quay and destroyed the German ship Neptune with loss of ten million pesetas.

Graduate of Asylum Uses Cash for Ads

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—A genuine ten-thousand-mark note used as an advertisement cover is the latest device to attract readers of periodicals. Herr Haeusser, entitling himself "President of the United States of Europe," started an election campaign by sending copies of his periodical "Haeusser" to numerous private persons. They are wrapped in an advertisement cover made of genuine ten-thousand-mark notes with the inscription: "Elect me into the Reichstag." In the pamphlet Haeusser reveals that having gone through nearly eighty-four prisons and made houses he is now the most powerful brainworker on earth and that he would be the first real "man" in Parliament.

"Apostle" Haeusser has a great many admirers, and wherever he makes a speech on a tour through Germany the halls are crowded.

African Fly May Be Nemesis of Locust

JOHANNESBURG Jan. 23.—Discovery of a fly which is believed to be a deadly enemy of the locust is reported by a government official from the western Transvaal.

The fly is brown in color and is somewhat similar to the "blue fly," although much broader. The theory is that the fly lays an egg behind the neck of the locust, and in the course of a few days the maggot, or worm, develops and kills the locust.

The discovery is welcomed with great satisfaction in South Africa where heavy hatchings of locust eggs have been feared as a result of recent rains.

Broadcasting Better English in England

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The English accent is undergoing a change for better, or for worse, and it is all due to wireless.

After a year of broadcasting school teachers report that English children are changing their pronunciation.

Contrary to popular belief education or sheer carelessness Now the wireless has come and with it broadcasting. Most the young men who do the broadcasting have a fine Oxford accent which is regarded as quite the best there is in English accents. English children who listen-in broadcasting, and a great majority of the listeners-in are children are adopting the accents of the broadcasters.

One Cent Rebate And Five Cents Worth of Paint

One cent too much was charged for a telegram at Western Union office, 221½ South Brand boulevard. A woman returned to claim the overpayment, according to C. H. Gulley, manager.

"I always get every cent coming to me," she said as she turned to go out the door. Just then she brushed her hand against the fresh green paint.

"There goes a nickel's worth of paint," commented the manager.

And he couldn't keep her from taking it away, either. Yesterday the door was repainted.

DEFENDS MEN ON EATING CHARGE

Syracuse Dietitian Reveals That Males Devour No More Than Women

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 23.—'Menus are no proof of the strength of the male," asserts Mrs. Ella Garrett, dietitian for university dormitories.

Mrs. Garrett took over the planning of meals for men's "dorms" for the first time this year. She says she had some qualms at being able to appease men's fabulous appetites.

The menus, however, remained the same in both the men's and the women's dormitories, but the quantity was increased. Mrs. Garrett soon found that the male student devoured no more than the women.

"I had always heard men are great meat eaters," she said, "and I believed they scorned salads and such dainties and practically live on pie, but at each meal meat and pie seem to disappear as rapidly in the women's dormitories. As for salads, the men are always asking for 'seconds.'

"The women are the tea drinkers, though. Men stick to coffee, milk and occasionally cocoa.

"Women," says Mrs. Garrett, "eat a great deal more potatoes." She adds this may explain the popularity of diet sheets and "the daily dozen" among Syracuse co-eds.

FANS OF VARIED HUES WIN FAVOR

Dame Fashion Decrees That Feathers of Different Kinds Be Employed

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Fans are fashionable again. Not the kind of fan, perhaps, that Mme. La Pompadour loved to own.

"Chicken skin, delicate, white,
Painted by Carl Vanloo,
Loves in a riot of light,
Roses and vapors blue.

"Hark to the dainty frou-frou,
Picture above, if you can,
Eyes that could melt as the dew—
This was Pompadour's fan."

But a very stately affair, for all that.

The really smart fan of the moment is a monstrous affair of waving ostrich feathers set in tortoise shell or ivory, or enamel, and if the designer can manage to work in a few diamonds or some paste, all the better for the owner.

Miss Nineteen Twenty Four can efface herself, if she feels like it, behind a four-foot feathery barricade, elect to carry three feathers set in costly sockets and rather suggestive of the Prince of Wales' feathers, or wave aloft a single feather tied with a bow of silver or gold ribbon. The important point is that she should have a fan of some sort.

Other Feathers

And if she does not happen to care for ostrich feathers, why, then, she can have heron or eagle quills, or one of Nottingham lace, stretched over "sticks," in some vivid color and draped it may be with a frill of the lace.

The emotional gown was supposed to express the character of the wearer. The fan has taken its place.

There is "L'Enfer," a mass of flame-colored feathers seen through others dyed a smoke-gray shade. This is for the woman of a jealous temperament.

Riot of Colors

There are scarlet and violet and deep orange colored for the vivid, forceful woman. Fans in delicate pink and blue and green feathers that look like an opal, for the tender, clinging woman. Pale pink and yellow, or aquamarine for the debutante, and emerald and jade green for the enterprising.

But there is no need for women to study fan movements. The angry flutter, the confused flutter, the merry flutter, and the amorous flutter of which Addison wrote would be superfluous in an age when freedom of speech is the fashion. The fan today is merely an aid to smartness.

SUB DEBS FIGHT FOR RECOGNITION

Blooming Buds of Quaker Metropolis Object to Wallflower Roles

PHLIADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Philadelphia debutantes of last season's vintage, volubly supported by doting maters, are fighting for dear recognition. The "debs" would continue to be blooming buds, pervading ballrooms with the fragrance of youth, instead of being wall flowers that merely decorate, and for that reason they have denounced as "cruel and inhuman" the widespread custom of hostesses giving "second year girls" the go-by courteous in order to devote themselves to the blooming of the latest buds.

Question in Open

The condition up to the present has been accepted socially as a sort of necessary evil, but the action of a mother of a popular debutante has brought the question of "shelving or no shelving" out into the open.

"I've sent my little girl to school in Paris," this mother said recently, "in order that she may escape the cruelty of this first flat year out."

Other mothers are able to sympathize with her, and an association for the prevention of social cruelty to debutantes looms on society's horizon here.

Where Blame Lies

Two factors are blamed for the condition—the scarcity of men and the large social group to be considered, the latter involving, in a casually monetary way, the expense of launching the filial craft on the sea of society. One matron estimated that it had cost $100,000 over a period of five months to bring out her daughter in the accepted way. Single parties, she said, often entailed bidding everlasting adieu to $10,000 and $15,000.

Authoress to Shoot Man-Eating Tigers

LONDON, Jan. 23. — Mrs. Thomas Seton, American authoress, has arrived in London, en route for India, with an ambition to shoot a man-eating tiger.

"I have shot a bear, moose, wapiti, elk and antelope and want to add a man-eating tiger to my bag," said Mrs. Seton.

"Please don't give the impression that I go around the world killing animals.

"I would rather shoot them with a camera. I shall never kill but one tiger except in necessity. If I have good luck I shall get all the thrills possible. I have not yet fixed a day with the tiger, but I hope to stay outside of him."

Syracuse Becoming 'College of Venuses'

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 23.—A college of Venuses. Such will soon be the designation of Syracuse university, according to Professor Katherine Sibley, head of the Co-eds' Physical Educational department. The "daily dozen" and track exercise are doing the trick—bringing the girls of the school to perfect proportions, Miss Sibley declares. She urges all women to go in for five-mile hikes, 100-yard dashes, tennis and "Beacon bats."

Small feet are universal among Laplanders.

BRITISH AIRMEN WOULD TAKE CUP

But Finances May Prevent Entry In 1924 Races In America

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The problem of sending a British team to America in 1924 to attempt to wrest the Schneider Cup back from the United States is already engaging much attention here.

Finance is the chief drawback to be contended with; for, while the United States government and the governments of other countries stand the cost of their entries—it being obviously recognized by them that the race is a practical test of air speeds and the development of engines and planes—the British government does not contribute anything at all, it being left to aeroplane manufacturers and to private individuals to furnish the means. These interests now state that the cost is becoming too great for them to bear.

This drawback is likely to be overcome, however, by the practical offer of George S. Johns, on behalf of the National Aeronautical Association of America, that American cities should furnish the cost, on condition that the Pulitzer trophy race for aeroplanes and the Curtiss marine trophy race for seaplanes be internationalized and that any foreign team visiting America to compete for the Schneider Cup should also enter for these two events as well, the cities at which the races are held furnishing the cost and expenses of the visiting European teams.

Matters of Policy

This offer will go a long way toward overcoming the chief drawback to British competitors; but another matter being put forward is the advisability of competing in 1924, and is concerned with various matters of policy.

Aircraft manufacturers are stated to be perturbed about the remarkable progress made by American manufacturers in producing racing machines and engines, and the tremendous speeds achieved by their products in various races, international and national.

Consequent on this it is being made a matter of consideration whether the wisest policy for Britain would not be to decline the invitation of the Aeronautical Association this year, at least so far as the Pulitzer trophy is concerned, and to spend two full years in designing and developing racing machines and engines, the argument being that when Britain does compete she will be sure of making a good showing in the races with better designed machines and engines.

FISTIC JAZZ ON PIANO DELIGHTS

American Shows Paris How to Hammer Keys Without Discordant Result

By ALICE LANGELIER
For International News Service.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—"That's what we call real jazz," said the Paris public that listened to the unusual concert of Henry Cowell, an American pianist, last week. The Americans were amused and the French astonished. Some of them liked it and many of them didn't, but all agreed they never had heard anything like it before.

Cowell hails from San Francisco, where he spent most of his years of study. He began to play at the early age of 10, and in later years studied in New York, Vienna and Leipsic, becoming essentially a composer. His music is ultra-modern, of the latest futurist pattern. In the field of music he holds the same place as Matisse in painting. The titles of his compositions alone are enough to tell us of this.

List of Titles

"Dynamic Motion," "Advertisement" and "Antimony" need little explanation. There is plenty of sound and motion. Cowell uses his hands, fists and forearms, and sometimes even the elbows. Result: A volume of sound, but much less discord than one is expecting. One or two false notes give a striking discord, he explains, but never many amalgamated sounds. As a matter of fact, if one only listens and does not watch the pianist the discords are not heard at all.

In his "Irish Legends" Cowell employs what he calls his "Cluster Chords" on the strings of the piano itself. It gives an unusual cosmic effect and one feels that he is expressing exactly what he desires—chaos, the Gods in anger and the voice of the father Lir, who possessed only the half of his tongue. Confusion is apparent when he gives his orders for the creation of the universe.

Does Dialect On Keys

"A Pleasant Conversation" tells of two Chinamen in their little shop talking together in humdrum voices. Just when the conversation becomes most interesting someone enters and the tete-a-tete breaks up in a manner most unfortunate, in which the pianist uses fists.

"Oh, le beau piano!" cried a big fat Frenchman in the first row. "Non, non, he will be using his feet next, c'est trop fort."

$12,000 Radium Belt Not Yet Delivered

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 23.—John Wilson, farmer, will never trust "doctors" again. He just got through paying one $12,000.

The "doctor"—he told Wilson he was a visiting Paris physician—"discovered" Wilson was ill—in danger of death. The only cure was a "radium belt." The belt could not be bought—just loaned. The security would be $12,000. Wilson had that much. He gave it to the doctor. The "radium belt" never arrived, and the "doctor" never came back.

Now police are seeking the "noted physician."

One person in every six in Glamorganshire, Wales, it is estimated, works under ground, and all of them produce about 57,000,000 tons of coal annually.

'Pipestem Figure' Has Several Drawbacks

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Famous doctors and nerve specialists have begun a protest against the practices adopted by many young women and girls in order to reduce and bring their figures into line with the "pipestem" figure now fashionable, which demands the complete obliteraton of curves and a straight, unbroken line from neck to knee.

Many girls swathe their bodies to a rigid tightness only likened to mummy wrappings, while some even bandage their bodies in strips of sticking plaster tightly wound, allege the doctors.

"This is a thousand times worse than the old tight-lacing," say the medicos. "Breathing becomes difficult under such intense pressure, and the lungs are cramped. In the tight-lacing days only a part of the body was cramped, but now these women and girls place abnormal pressure on the stomach and chest organs.

"The straight silhouette is full of peril for future generations."

Johnson Delays His Trip into Dakotas

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Senator Hiram Johnson has decided to postpone his contemplated speaking tour to North and South Dakota until possibly late in February, and will depart for Washington within a few days, Frank Hitchcock, his national campaign manager, announced here Tuesday. Senator Johnson originally had planned to start his tour of the Dakotas Monday.

Simultaneously with this announcement Hitchcock said he would go to Omaha, Neb., Wednesday to complete campaign plans for Nebraska. It is expected the Omaha conferences will result in the selection of a Johnson campaign manager for Nebraska.

Hitchcock said the change in the California senator's plans were occasioned by the legislative jam in congress.

MAY ALTER NAME TO PARENTS' DAY

Florists Gouge Patrons Who Buy Flowers on Mothers' Day, Is Charge

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—A movement designed to make the second Sunday in May Parents' day was launched here recently.

Mothers' day has been celebrated in May heretofore for several years, but it got an unsavory odor, according to backers of the movement, who charge that florists were "soaking" the public for flowers for that particular Sunday.

According to two men—"Uncle Robert" and "Brother Ed"—who declined to give their names, it is purposed to replace Mothers' day with Parents' day.

"The idea," said "Uncle Robert" in a statement, "is to establish a day of remembrance that would be clean, pure and devotional. In the matter of gifts, this should be open to all merchants, who would be expected to offer goods at a price within the reach of the pennies of small children. So far as the florists are concerned, there would be no idea whatever of establishing any particular flower as the emblem of the day. On the contrary, any flower or plant offered wihin a reasonable price would be in order. Trade marks or insignia don't mean devotion; but true love, with sincerity, comes from the heart. Little children, save your pennies to buy something for your parents. Daughters, make something of your own handiwork for the home. Sons, give something as a remembrance to show yuor love and gratitude."

"Uncle Robert" showed a letter from Governor Parker, of Louisiana, endorsing his undertaking. He also showed a statement from the commissioner of education of New York state giving the movement his approval.

SWISS COUNT IS PAPER MILL HAND

Ancestry Dates Back to Time Columbus Discovered Western World

FITCHBURG, Mass., Jan. 23.—Found—a count working in a paper mill as a mill hand.

He's Count von der Weide.

Baron Jean de Monenach, secretary of the League of Nations, is a cousin to the count. He recently married Helen Gould, daughter of Frank Gould.

His ancestry in the Swiss nobility can be traced back to the days six years after Columbus discovered America. At the outbreak of the French Revolution his family dropped the use of the title. The World War and consequent financial reverses brought young Jean to this country.

Two years ago the youth bade good-by to his aged mother and father and sailed for this country. He spent his first six months in New York and in the Western States. He then came to Fitchburg, where he was employed by the Fitchburg Paper company as a mill hand. Jean can be found any day at the mill learning every detail of the paper business.

"America is the greatest country in the world," he says.

His reason, he says, for learning every detail of the business is because some day he may return to his own country and, with a financial backing, may establish himself in the paper business there.

SUNDAY SCHOOL'S PUPILS INCREASE

Christian Endeavor Society Will Be Organized In Community Church

The Community church pastor, Dr. Kelso, reports the Sunday school attendance on Sunday to be 170 strong. This is a most encouraging number, and every Sunday sees an increase in the attendance.

On Sunday evening Mr. Richards, Mr. Pettit, Miss L. Compton and Miss E. Kimball, all of Glendale, came up to help the young people of the church with the organizing of a new Christian Endeavor. Mr. Richards, who presided at the meeting, gave a most interesting talk on the work of the C. E. Mr. Pettit also spoke along these lines.

Miss Compton charmed her audience with her exquisite rendition of "He Will Hold Me Close," while Miss Kimball played with such rythm everyone sang, whether they thought they could or not. The children's choir sang beautifully. The young people of the church will meet next Sunday evening to organize a C. E. chapter if there are enough members to do so.

The diocesan convention of the Episcopal church will be held next week from January 27 to 31, inclusive. The 29th, when the Woman's Auxiliary will meet, is of particular interest to all guild members, and everyone is urged to make an effort to attend on this date, at least. The convention will be held in St. John's of Los Angeles. On the evening of the 31st there will be a dinner and reception held in Harvard hall in honor of Bishop and Mrs. Johnson and Bishop Coadjutor Stevens and his wife. Many reservations have been made from here already.

On Wednesday evening of each week there is a regular prayer meeting and community sing held in the Presbyterian Community church, of which the children's choir is the main feature. All are made most welcome.

Class Holds Picnic

On Saturday the 8 A's gave a big picnic party to the 8 B's, which was held in Brookside park, where sports of all kinds were indulged in. The grades were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Blanford and Miss Sarah Conlin.

The firm of Collins & Watkins has purchased the old Bessie MacDonald property on Briggs avenue above Michigan avenue, which they will subdivide. Before putting the property on the market Mr. Collins states the roads will be paved, curbs and sidewalks laid. These lots are to be seventy-five feet frontage, and the firm will erect a few very fine homes on some of the property. Collins & Watkins have also purchased another truck for their work and have started the twenty-first house on the Michigan avenue tract, where 200 lots have been sold.

Mrs. Jessie Hansen entertained as her house guests last week Mrs. J. Hubberkorn of Huntington Park and Mrs. Hauffmuller of Santa Monica.

Don't forget the big community sing to be held Thursday evening in Montrose school house. Mrs. Evelyn Pierce, who read for the Woman's club recently, will give some of her clever readings. Mrs. Hopkins desires everyone to be prompt, as the time is limited, for the director comes up from Glendale and must conclude the sing at 9:30. Every one of the family should go to at least one meeting, then they'll go again. Every Thursday night.

The committee on investigating the proposed water district project will meet at the home of Mark Collins on Monday evening of next week. After they have come to some arrangement the bond issue will be up entirely to the people.

The Girl Scouts will give a big Valentine dance party on the evening of February 15. Kelly's Shrine orchestra will provide the music, which is enough to bring everyone out. Home-made cakes and candy will be on sale. Other announcements to be made later.

The young people of the Community church enjoyed a hay ride the other evening—a real, old-fashioned, honest-to-goodness hay ride, with horses and everything, just as they used to do. After a two-hour ride the youthful ones returned to the church parlors, where games were played and refreshments partaken of.

Daddy Carpenter is still holding his own, and everyone is happy, knowing there is still a chance for the town favorite to recover from his very serious illness.

Glendale Float Wins Half Page In N. Y. Herald

Already Glendale is beginning to reap the reward of its magnificent showing in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, where the "Fairyland" float won first prize.

Hundreds of other eastern papers are using similar picture reproductions.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS STAGED

Daughters of Veterans Hold Impressive Ceremony In Legion Hall

An impressive ceremony and an inspiring spirit or fraternalism and patriotism marked the public installation last night of Mrs. Audrey Hall Billingsley, president, and her staff of 1924 elected and appointed officers of Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, which was held in the American Legion hall.

The hall had been decorated for the occasion with the patriotic colors, red, white and blue, forming a latticed work canopy effect to which was fastened a large number of American flags. The color bearers' stations with the tall silk flags also added to the effectiveness of the decorations.

A short session of the chapter preceded the installation when the retiring president, Mrs. Pearl Moore, and her staff of officers, introduced and escorted to seats of honor visiting members of the Daughters of Veterans, G. A. R. and W. R. C. Those occupying the seats on the platform were Mabel Plymere, national senior vice-president of the Daughters of Veterans; Comrade Dobenspeck, past department commander of the G. A. R.; Comrade Fuller, commander of the N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R.; Comrade Barrett, past commander of the N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., and "father" of the local tent, Daughters of Veterans, and Edna Wadsworth, past department president of the Daughters of Veterans and "mother" of the local tent.

Officers Introduced

Permelia Daugherty, department president and installing officer, and her staff of officers, including Edna Wadsworth, past department president; Margaret French, department secretary, and Mrs. Ingramen, department color bearer, were introduced and escorted to their stations.

The most impressive feature of the installation was the entrance of the officers-elect. All members of the staff wore white gowns.

Mrs. Billingsley is a charter member of Mary Jane Gillette Tent, Veterans, and her charming personality and executive ability have won the confidence and friendship of every member and her election as president assures a most successful and prosperous year for the local tent.

Those who were installed with her and will share the responsibility and honor are: Alma Dutton, senior vice-president; Mae Dutton, junior vice-president; Dora Hall, chaplain; Cora Jones, treasurer; Esther Wilson, secretary; Clara Hamilton, patriotic instructor; council members, Pearl Moore, Susie Peck, Harriett Mills; color bearers, Evelyn Ashman, Dorothy Danner, Amie Miller, Daphne Lyons; guide, Leona Hibbert; guard, Alice Sheldon; assistant guard, Irene Fuller; and musician, Queen Danner.

Every part of the installation ceremony was artistically carried out and the retiring officers and officers-elect are justly deserving of much praise.

Gift for Mrs. Moore

Late in the evening the formality was broken by a time of congratulation and gift giving. Mrs. Pearl Moore, retiring president, was presented with a past president's gold badge by the newly installed president, Audrey Hall Billingsley.

At this time Mrs. Moore took the opportunity to express her appreciation of the co-operation of the members and officers during the past year.

Mrs. Billingsley presented the installing officer, Permelia Daugherty, with a gift and the other installing officers with beautiful bouquets. Mrs. Dora Hall presented Mrs. Billingsley with a bouquet from the auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans.

The rest of the evening was devoted to an informal social hour when refreshments were served.

Will Organize New Troop of Boy Scouts

Announcement is made that a new troop of Boy Scouts is to be organized Thursday night at the Broadway Methodist church. All boys over 12 years of age, who are interested in becoming Scouts are invited to attend and join as charter members. The troop will take up the regular non-sectarian work of the Scout organization. Mr. Philgrim is the organizer.

roses, that set off the trophies to perfection.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower briefly but happily introduced the honor guests, greeting each with some especially apposite remarks. Those who were presented to the guests were Mayor Spencer Robinson, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena; Supervisor Henry W. Wright; T. B. Allin, president of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce; George B. Karr, president of the Rotary club; A. L. Baird, Kiwanis club president; R. E. Johnston, Exchange club president; C. C. Cooper, V. M. Hollister, Jesse E. Smith, former presidents of the Chamber of Commerce, James M. Rhoades, former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; L. W. Chobe, designer of Glendale's winning floats.

Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Federated Parent-Teachers' association; Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, and Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty board, were unable to be present.

Following the introduction of the guests President Hewitt turned the gavel over to Cameron D. Thom, who was at his best in performing the duties of toastmaster, and who introduced Mayor Spencer Robinson as "the best little mayor Glendale has had during his present term."

All Work Together

Mayor Robinson also sounded the keynote of co-operation when he declared that it was not any one man or organization that passed the bond issue, but every civic organization that had the welfare of Glendale at heart working in closest harmony for the good of the city.

To E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, fell the task of presenting L. W. Chobe with $500 which, he alleged, was found at the foot of the rainbow on the Fairyland float that captured the prizes in the 1924 Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, and Mr. Chobe briefly but feelingly acknowledged the gift, declaring that his biggest pleasure came from working for Glendale.

The Kiwanis club members sang the Kiwanis song, led by George Lyons, the club's tenor; the Rotary club presented a song full of topical allusions; the Escrow Indians of the Glendale Realty board sponsored the singing of Mrs. S. S. Gilhuly's song, "Glendale," by Miss Doris Horning, with Mrs. Gilhuly, who wrote the words and composed the music, playing the accompaniment; the Exchange club sang their "Unity for Service" song, with an accompaniment of jingling glasses; and Captain D. Ripley Jackson, former president of the Exchange club, sang two songs, accompanied by Mrs. Nanna T. Custer.

C. of C. Features

The Chamber of Commerce feature of the program was the presentation of Miss Hazel Linkogel, introduced by Secretary Sanders as Glendale's premiere virtuoso, who rendered two numbers on her violin, accompanied by Mrs. Pearl Curran.

In presenting Mattison B. Jones, President Hewitt declared that Mr. Jones had allowed much of his own legal business to be sidetracked while he devoted his time and his energies to the passage of the sewer bonds, and Mayor Robinson also praised the work that had been done in the recent campaign by Mr. Jones. The latter then presented the speaker of the evening, Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, who delivered an address on the topic, "Play Ball."

REPORTS REVEAL GROWTH OF BANK

Retiring Directorate Again Unanimously Chosen For Another Year

The success and prosperity of the Community Savings & Commercial bank, which opened November, 1922, at 1726 South San Fernando road, were recited Monday at the annual meeting of stockholders in the bank building, when plans were formulated for moving into the new building being erected at the corner of South Brand boulevard and San Fernando road.

A feature of the meeting was the election of the board of directors, members of the former board being unanimously re-elected. They are: W. W. Lee, chairman; Max Bayha, George H. Bentley, George V. Black, Dan Campbell, Arthur Campbell, Hubert L. Eaton, George B. Karr, W. C. B. Richardson. In a later session these directors chose as officers, Dan Campbell, president; W. W. Lee, vice-president and chairman; W. C. B. Richardson, vice-president; H. J. Wellman, cashier, secretary and treasurer.

Reports given during the annual meeting showed that there are fifty stockholders, 980 depositors in both departments, resources of $270,592.10, and a capital of $40,000.

It is hoped by the bank officials that the institution will be located in the new building opposite the Gateway market in four months' time. Equipment, fixtures and other phases of the new building were discussed in detail at the meeting Monday.

INSPIRING SPEECH BY DR. BROUGHER

dote and droll humor that kept the large audience constantly attentive, revealing to those who had never before heard him the reason why Sunday after Sunday he is able to draw audiences of 2500 people to morning and evening services at the great Philharmonic auditorium.

Control Great Need

"If we trained for life the way players train for a game, we would live longer and be happier. I am not a Christian Scientist, but I don't believe in being sick. It's not healthy! You women, too, do you train for the great game of life?

"Most of the trouble in life comes from failing to control our tempers and our tongues. Anger is a poison that destroys health. How many people play the game of life calmly?

"Quickness and accuracy of thought are two other vital attributes of success in life as in sport. Every man on the team must be a specialist. In the great economic game, the specialist is highly rewarded for his particular knowledge and skill. What can you do well?

"And co-operation, that is the whole game. Did you ever see a winning team that didn't co-operate? Team play, that's what it means. It is one of the elemental laws of life.

What Is Pessimist?

Conversely, selfishness has no part in team play. Many a game has been lost by selfishness and many a game has been won by unselfishness. We all know Ray Chapman, the ball player who was killed by a pitched ball last year, but how many of us know that for four years he was the world's champion sacrifice hitter. Babe Ruth blazed his name before the world by his home run record—but I would rather have Chapman's honor than Ruth's.

"Then there is the pessimist. How can anyone get ahead with a pessimist around? Do you know what a pessimist is? He is a blind man in a dark room looking for a black hat. A pessimist is a man who wears both belt and suspenders and has no confidence in either. An optimist, on the other hand, is a man who wears neither belt nor suspenders and has no hips.

"I would rather be janitor in a sunshine factory than president of a pickle plant. Enthusiasm puts the gin in ginger. It makes winning teams, and will make Glendale even greater."

For First Time

Dr. Brougher concluded his address with a story that no one present last night will ever forget. He told of the college boy, pitcher on the team, whose father was stone blind. Three days before the last, deciding game of the season, news came that the boy's father had died. He went home at once, of course, but not without the pleading request from his teammates that he return if possible and pitch that last game. He said he would try.

And, true to his promise, after the funeral was over he came back, pale, quiet, but ready to pitch the game. Well, he pitched it, the greatest game of his career. Due to his superb control, his team won, giving them the championship.

The coach then came up to the boy, as he stood there in the dressing room, when it was all over, pale but with a smile on his drawn face.

"Magnificent, lad!" said the coach, throwing an arm around his shoulder. "How could you ever do it?"

"I'll tell you, coach," the boy said. "All the time I have been playing ball, my father has been following me, as best he could. But he was blind and he couldn't see. But oh, he saw me pitch today, for the first time—and I couldn't fail him."

Army Refuses to Buy Fine Arts Building

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—The board of officers which was convened by Major General Charles G. Morton for the purpose of considering the proposed sale of the Palace of Fine Arts, San Francisco, to the army, has completed its findings and recommends that the army does not pur purchase the building.

The board, consisting of Col. Arthur W. Yates, commanding the San Francisco genera lintermediate depot; Col. Harry F. Rethers, Ninth Corps area quartermaster, and Lieut.-Col. William H. Tobin, post quartermaster, Presidio, made a thorough examination of the building and found it to be entirely unsuited for any use by the army. The board's findings have been submitted to and approved by General Morton.

Japan Art & Tea Co. to Give Valuable Premiums Thursday Night

T. Kuranaga, proprietor of the Japan Art & Tea Co., 135 South Brand boulevard, will hold his annual souvenir drawing in the Hahn auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, Thursday night, January 24, at 7:30 o'clock, when a large number of valuable premiums will be distributed to the holders of the lucky tickets that have been given away with purchases during the last month.

Many local stores have donated prizes to be distributed among the ticket holders, the awards ranging all the way from things to wear to something to eat, from table lamps to flowers, with a handsome carved Italian marble statue and clock as the grand prize. In addition to the prizes that have been offered by local firms, several of the supply houses that do business with Mr. Kuranaga have also donated products to be given away.

Experts from the H. Jevne company will have charge of the decorating of the hall, as it is planned by Mr. Kuranaga to make the affair one that will live in the memory of his patrons and other residents of Glendale, and he also plans to deliver a brief address on the advantages of buying at home, before the distribution of the prizes.

The advertisements and handbills calling attention to the drawing bear the legend: "This literature was composed by K., Manager and Unpacker and Sidewalk Sweeper of Japan Art & Tea Co.

$6,500,000 Is Sought For New Hospital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—An appropriation of $6,500,000 to complete the permanent hospital system of the veterans' bureau was asked by Director Hines, who appeared before the House public buildings committee.

The projects outlined by General Hines were as follows:

New 1000-bed hospital somewhere in District No. 2, which includes the states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, at an estimated cost of $3,000,000.

Erection of 2000-bed hospital at Great Lakes training camp, near Chicago, costing $600,000.

New 300-bed hospital on some site in District No. 10, of which Minneapolis is headquarters.

DENIAL BY BRITAIN

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The British foreign office today denied Washington advices that the Anglo-American "rum running" treaty is operating and effective though it is not yet signed.

Iowa Democrats Are Thrown into Confusion

WATERLOO, Iowa, Jan. 23.—Wilbur B. Marsh of Waterloo, Democratic national committeeman from Iowa, Tuesday denied the report that he had resigned or would resign, and announced his candidacy for re-election.

He declared that he favored an uninstructed delegation from this state to the Democratic convention at New York in June.

Marsh recently resigned as treasurer of the national committee, but he is still an accredited committeeman. His statement complicates the Iowa Democratic situation, as McAdoo adherents are favoring an Iowa delegation instructed to vote for him, whereas another group is proposing an uninstructed delegation as the best method for gaining Democratic concessions for Iowa.

COOLIDGE ENDORSES ACT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—President Coolidge Tuesday, gave his unqualified endorsement to the Coulter Murphy diversification act which would provide loans to farmers through a federal agency for the purchase of live stock and the entry into other lines of agricultural activity.

New Spaghetti Eating Champion in Missouri

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 23.—Frank Rufolo is the new spaghetti-eating champion of Jackson county.

He won the crown from Walter Randazzo, present champion by a yard of spaghetti and with a second to spare in a three-cornered match here last night.

Peter D. La Petina, in the third corner in the triangular match, let his anxiety get away with him and finished puffing, a bad third. He tossed in the sponge when he found he had mistaken his napkin for a roll of spaghetti.

Rufolo, the new champion, set a world's record in winning. He devoured 1,130 feet in less than eleven minutes. The former record was 930 feet in 10 minutes, held by Randazzo.

LEGISLATURE IN SESSION

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 23.—The Montana legislature convened in extraordinary session here Tuesday, called by Governor Dixon to re-enact the legislative appropriation measures recently declared illegal by the state supreme court.

Flesh of the young camel is a favorite food of the Arabs, and its flavor is said to resemble that of veal.

NEWBYGRAMS MOTHER! OH! LOOK!

Nifty new Spanish Kellastone stucco, in the new High School district. Two large light and airy bedrooms finished in that new dull tiffany stippled finish by an artist who knew how. This has one of those baths that makes Saturday night a real pleasure. The living room in this house is a thing of comfort and joy forever, having a real fire-place with a French mirror above the mantel and finished in real gum. The dining room is large, finished in real gum and has beautiful modern buffet; the floors are ½-inch hardwood throughout. And when Mother sees this kitchen Dad might as well grab the old checkbook. It's one of those trick kitchens with the famous Peerless built-ins, disappearing nook. The sink is tile of course. Large garage, automatic heater, sanitary tub, sixteen orange trees, that really have oranges on them on a real street. If you are looking for a home save time and see

VACANT LOTS AND ACRES

ISN'T THIS RIDICULOUS?

It is a common thing for people to be that way, but it is mighty seldom that they want it advertised to the world. We wrote an advertisement with a heading

WOULD $250 IN ONE DAY SATISFY YOU?

Through a series of errors in the newspaper office it was run in this manner:

WOULD $250 INCOME DAY SATISFY YOU?

Ye Gods! We'll say it would! But we don't happen to have anything that will do quite that well. We do have some good propositions, and this happened to be one of them. We sold some lots that made the purchaser $250 IN ONE DAY, on each lot, but that would not continue day after day, and we did not want the advertisement in the income property classification. However, it is all fixed up, and about 75 lots have been sold. We still have about and we are not bluffing when we say that you can made that profit on resale without waiting, because they are that much under other tract prices.

Baby Recovers from Three Months Paralysis

JACKSON, Cal., Jan. 23.—Geraldine Davies, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davies, after an illness of three months, which caused her to lose her power of speech, is now able to talk. Geraldine was stricken with a malady which baffled physicians and specialists.

Tests were taken by different specialists for paralysis, but no indication of that disease was found. It was thought that she had eaten something poisonous that had affected the system so that she lost the use of her limbs and the power of speech.

She is now well on the road to recovery.

TO HOLD GREASE

To prevent grease working out to the brakes see that the felt washers at the end of the axle housing or within the rear hub are properly installed.

SCOUT OFFICIALS HOLD CONFERENCE

Round Table of Council Is Held to Plan Year's Work for Troops

Scout Masters of the Boy Scouts Verdugo Hills council, conducted a round table meeting at the home of Harvey R. Cheesman, 1021 San Rafael street, to discuss matters of interest to the boy scout activities. Scout Masters of each troop gave short talks regarding the work of their troops and helpful suggestions and plans for the year's work were inaugurated. New songs and yells were introduced and plans were made for the Boy Scout birthday anniversary to be celebrated on February 12, with a campfire rally.

Plans were also discussed relative to a scout masters' round table dinner to be held during February. The committee in charge will announce further details at a later date.

Will Improve Camp

Frank C. Ayars, chairman of the camp committee, led in the discussion of improving Haines canyon, given by the Rotary club syndicate, for a Boy Scout summer camp. The erection of a swimming pool will be begun at once, it is announced.

The scout masters also voted to see about securing a summer camp site at Catalina for Verdugo Hills Council.

Those present at the meeting included Hal E. Leedom, Louis Wilson, Robert M. Taylor, Kenneth M. Payne, Mr. Hait, Mr. Graft, H. B. Lockwood, C. W. Angier, and Mr. Clapp, Mr. Axe, Benjamin .Robison, Frank C. Ayars, and Harvey R. Cheesman.

Late in the evening refreshments were served by Mrs. Harvey R. Cheesman and Mrs. H. B. Lockwood.

Buckeye Society to Meet on Wednesday

Glendale "Buckeyes" are called to a meeting of the "Buckeye Society" tonight at 8 o'clock at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Mrs. Ramsey has arranged an interesting program and C. N. Wilder, president, is to preside.

C. B. Randolph Sells Property for $10,000

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Randolph of Glendale have sold their properties in Section 30, one mile east of Arvin, to C. L. Claflin, J. B. Cauzza, C. A. Barlow and W. F. Gettle, for a consideration of $10,000, according to a land transfer filed in the county recorder's office, Los Angeles.

Hold Conference Over Shaw to Aid Legion

G. U. Sanger, general manager, and W. O. Beckman, superintendent, of the Wortham shows were in the city yesterday conferring with the executive committee of the Glendale American Legion post relative to final appearance of the shows in this city from February 4 to 9 inclusive.

These shows, carrying over 400 people, are the largest aggregation of amusements on the road, and came to California especially to appear at the National Orange show at San Bernardino. There are twenty-two shows and rides, including a wild west troupe that is acknowledged to be the peer of any similar unit in America.

The Legion has reserved the right to exercise strict supervision over all shows and concessions at all times, so objectionable features which many people connect with traveling amusement shows will be eliminated from the Glendale appearance of the Wortham shows.

The site for the exhibition has not been selected as yet, as the committee is experiencing difficulty in obtaining a plot large enough to accommodate the shows.

Members of Choral Club Out In Force

The Community Service Choral club held the most enthusiastic meeting of the year in the auditorium of the old high school with the director, J. Arthur Meyers, in charge. The attendance was the largest it has been since the organization of the club.

During intermission, Miss Elizabeth Mottern, Glendale's talented musician and soloist, gave several vocal selections which were greatly appreciated.

A social committee was appointed during the meeting last night with Mrs. Roberta Young, chairman, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, Miss Marie Oliver, Miss Martha Eiler, Harry James and D. Davidson.

TO KEEP LAND OFFICES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The proposal of the house appropriations committee to abolish 21 land offices was rejected Tuesday during consideration of the interior department appropriation bill. The land offices will be continued. Among those slated for discontinuance were Vancouver and Yakima, Wash.

Glendale Financing Sound And Paying Fair Returns To Investment Bankers

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Eleven years ago when the writer first arrived in Glendale there were two banks which handled the financial business of the city. They were quite self-sufficient for the 5000 people, many of whom did not appreciate the benefits of banking in their home town. Today there are eight banking houses and four or five finance firms which give life blood to mortgages, trust deeds, automobile paper and other collateral.

The writer took occasion yesterday to interview several of the money men in their respective places of business—and we found the world is treating them well. Legitimate financing enterprises are paying a fair return on the capital investment.

Discounts Aid Turnover

Discounts are heavy at the present time, an investigation will disclose, but they permit of a rapid turnover of property and the property values are not jeopardized in the least, according to the investment bankers. In fact, the readiness with which discounts are made make the purchase of trust deeds and other collateral profitable and popular.

There is plenty of money, apparently, for conservative first mortgage loans at 8 per cent while a few financiers will aid the home builder with 7 per cent money, but there is little or nothing at 6 per cent. Banks, it might be stated, are carrying a load presently which tends to create an impression there is a money shortage because they have not funds available to finance all those who desire credit.

Business is Good

This, in turn, is making business very good for the finance and investment firms which have no trouble in earning 8 per cent on their turnover. Representatives of eastern money also find a field here which is safe and capable of producing more than the section in which the money originates.

In conversing with investment bankers here one finds that Glendale and Southern California is particularly fortunate in that inflation has not been allowed to go beyond bounds; that development is economically sound insofar as money is concerned; that losses are nil, although some mortgage interest is slow coming in; and that promotion and building is so profitable here that premiums are happily paid, or good discounts effected.

More Money Needed

Money and more money, however, is the need of Southern California. Eastern capitalists are amazed at opportunities here, once they learn of them, and it is only a matter of time when Los Angeles will be second to New York as a money market.

Due to the instability of international exchange and losses in exporting; also, the destructive deflation in agricultural areas, the great southwest presently appeals to the person with money more than any other place, it is said.

Bonds Sell Well

Irrigation, school, street and improvement bonds of Southern California communities find a ready market while industrial projects and mercantile establishments are financed readily here. As for real estate and development projects they are doing very nicely.

One might truthfully state that optimism is personified in local financial transactions.

AUDITOR OF CLUB PRESENTS REPORT

Financial Statement Tells Standing; Program Wins Members' Praise

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

The finesse of Tuesday Afternoon club women in club administration and business management is vividly reflected in the splendid report of the club auditor, Mrs. R. A. Blackburn, presented yesterday morning to the board of directors, and later at the club meeting in the afternoon.

Covering the period from June 26, 1923 to January 15, 1924, the report shows total receipts of $17,576.56; total disbursements of $11,808.18, leaving a balance of $5,762.32.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president, was in charge of the club meeting, which was followed by a program by Miss Monica Craig, pianist, and Harry A. James, monologist.

Heard With Interest

Miss Craig was heard with much interest by the club members. She is a newcomer to Glendale, a native of Canada and received her musical education in Germany.

She played "Cappriccio F Sharp Minor" (Mendelssohn), "Etude, F Sharp Major" (Chopin) and "To Spring" (Grieg).

Mr. James' part of the program was entertaining as well as educational. In his own humorous style he told of the making of a phonograph record, beginning with the tiny Hindu insect, the Lakh, which produces the shellac from which the most successful records are made. He had a special table arranged with exhibits of records in the process of making, with which he illustrated his talk.

This shellac he said was found by scientists to be perspiration from the little crimson insects produced after they had sucked the sap from the trees. He told of the habits of these insects and of the scarcity and high price of shellac if they were unable to find homes.

Record by Bird

Particularly interesting was his description of the vibratory needle used for recording the human voice or other sounds on a great wax plate. From this wax plate a copper plate is made, known as the "Master Record." From the master, a "Mother Record" is made and from it the "Stamper." It is from the stamper that the wholesale records are made.

Mr. James stated that 5,000,000 mother records can be made from one master; 100,000 stampers from a mother record; and 25,000 records from a stamper.

The speaker told of hearing a canary bird making a record in the eastern factory and then played part of the bird record. He later gave his entertaining English monologue, "The Englishman at a Baseball Game" and then played part of the record he made of the sketch.

The next meeting of the club falling on a fifth Tuesday, there will be no luncheon. A program given at 3 o'clock will be a costume recital by the Southland Trio.

CONFIRM NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Senate Tuesday afternoon confirmed the nominations of Edward H. Cunningham and George R. James to be members of the federal reserve board.

Revenue Chief Tells of Delinquent Rules

Under instructions received from Washington yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, cases of delinquent income taxpayers who fail to take advantage of their privilege of submitting an offer in compromise of specific penalties, or where the circumstances are such that the specific penalty cannot be compromised, are to be referred to the United States district attorney for action.

In cases where returns are not filed within the required time and the taxpayer's explanation for delinquency is held to be reasonable, the collector may order the case closed.

In cases where the collector believes the penalties are out of proportion to the offense, a nominal offer in compromise may be filed. Where the ad valorem penalty is assessed and the taxpayer refuses to pay, a warrant of distraint will be used if necessary.

Collector Goodcell's instructions provide that the procedure in delinquency cases does nto preclude the acceptance of an explanation in a meritorious case, even after the penalty has been assessed.

All explanations of delinquencies in connection with returns forwarded to Washington will be reviewed by the Commissioner of Internal Revneue and the penalties will be waived or assessed as the circumstances may warrant.

Auto Camp Case Is Once More in Court

Judge Ira Thompson, of the Superior Court in Los Angeles, yesterday heard arguments by counsel in the matter of E. Holland, whose application for permission to conduct an auto camp ground at San Fernando road and Riverdale drive was refused by the City Council.

Several of the objections noted in the petition filed by the plaintiff were struck out, and some were upheld, with the result that he was given ten days in which to file a new petition, a hearing on which will be held at a date to be set later.

Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, appeared for Glendale and W. Claire Aspach for Mr. Holland.

The granting of this permit was bitterly opposed by the West Glendale Improvement Association, of which R. E. Johnston is president, and was the cause of former court action in Los Angeles.

K. of C. State Deputy Honored by Members

Jesse Smith, grand knight, and Peter L. Ferry, district deputy, headed the delegation of Glendale Knights of Columbus who went to Los Angeles to attend the affair given by the Junipero Serra council at the Catholic Women's club in honor of the state deputy, Frank E. Michel.

Glendale figured prominently in the success of the evening, for, in addition to the big local delegation, the entertainment program was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard, vocalists, and Miss Hazel Lucile Howell, violinist, of Glendale.

Hungarian Musician Is Guest at Dinner

Erwin Nyiregyhazi, Hungarian pianist, who has won highest praise in his concerts in Los Angeles, was a guest in Glendale Sunday, being entertained at a dinner party given by Miss Gertrude Cleophas of 337 North Central avenue.

Other guests were Misses Carmen Blackston and Gladys Hopner, and Franz Geritz and Luis Anker-Holth.

The dinner celebrated Mr. Nyiregyhazi's twenty-first birthday.

Turn Prisoner Over To Sheriff's Office

A man giving his name as Frashier, of 240 Dayton court, was arrested by Capt. W. A. Loving and Lieut. W. J. Royle of the local police department on instructions from Sheriff William Traeger of Los Angeles. He was later turned over to two deputies from that office and taken to the county jail.

According to information received from the sheriff's office, he is wanted in connection with a ring that is alleged to be mixed up with several stolen car deals.

Realty Dealer Adds To Selling Force

Opal O. Greenwalt, who has engaged in local realty activities for the past year, and who recently opened an office at her home, 408 Oak street, announces that business has been so strenuous that she has found it necessary to secure an assistant.

Mrs. Lura Rodgers, formerly of the H. S. Webb store, is now associated with Mrs. Greenwalt in handling all kinds of realty deals.

HANDY SCREWDRIVER

A handy screw-driver to fit heads of small screws can be made by cutting off the hook end of a shoe buttonhook and flattening the end.

CARLTON OF W. U. WILL VISIT HERE

President of Telegraph Co. To See Southland's Grownig Cities

Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, with headquarters in New York, is expected to visit Glendale this week-end, according to C. H. Gulley, local manager, who has recently taken charge of the new quarters at 221½ South Brand boulevard.

Mr. Carlton, it is reported, will arrive in Los Angeles on Thursday and visit the southland's rapidly developing sections to learn first hand where the great increases in business are coming from. Glendale is one of the points which swell Los Angeles' total.

W. R. Williams, city manager of the Western Union Telegraph company in Los Angeles, was in Glendale yesterday on a brief inspection trip. He is quite satisfied with his newly equipped office here which remains open until 11 p. m.

Manager Gulley, two operators, a clerk and several messenger boys are employed here, taking care of the metropolitan area this side of Los Angeles river to Burbank, including Eagle Rock, La Crescenta, Montrose, and other outlying communities.

Drama Department to Widen Scope of Work

Mrs. Max Lynn Green, chairman of the drama department of Community Service, is planning a great development of the activities under her direction, according to plans outlined at the meeting of her committee at the Chamber of Commerce hall.

Her committee includes Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, vice-president; Mrs. Malvern Barker, Mrs. Dana Goss, Harold Brewster, Mrs. L. E. Gates, R. E. Tucker and Granville Sturgis, director.

It is the plan to organize as many subordinate units as possible in various parts of the city, and from these to draw for the bigger productions to be given by the department.

GAS KILLS THREE MEN

CINCINNATI, Jan. 23.—A father and two sons were found dead from gas poisoning in their home in Avondale Tuesday afternoon. They had inhaled fumes from a gas stove. The dead are: Charley Delaney, 60, caretaker of an oil station on the Reading road; Martin, 19, and Frank, 26, his sons.

G-M PLANS CALL FOR CELEBRATION

Advancement Association to Mark Opening of New Railway Service

A heavy schedule of business faces the meeting of the Glendale Advancement Association at luncheon in the Harriett Mae Tea Room Thursday noon, according to C. W. Ingledue of the association. The matter of arranging a celebration to commemorate the opening of new and modern service on the Glendale-Montrose railway will be considered. The laying of heavy rails and other construction work has progressed so far that a date about February 1 can be set as the time the new service will start, Mr. Ingledue said. A celebration fitting to the occasion will be staged, according to present plans, the purpose being both to show the appreciation the community feels because of this splendid improvement and also to advertise it to the world.

Report On Sewers

Other matters to come up at Thursday's luncheon meeting will be the report of several important committees. The Glendale avenue sewer committee, appointed to look into the matter of laying sewer mains on Glendale avenue in advance of the paving which is now being done, in order, if possible, to make it unnecessary to disturb the paving later, will report its findings on this subject. The lighting committee, which has in charge the project of placing ornamental street lights on Glendale avenue and on Broadway, is expected to furnish some highly interesting facts relative to this improvement.

Humane Society to Meet on January 24

It is hoped that the Glendale Humane society will be in possession of its charter by Thursday night, January 24, when an open meeting will be held under its auspices at the Glendale Union High school auditorium, with Mrs. Marion Brase as the principal speaker.

Mrs. Brase, a resident of Santa Monica, has been engaged in Humane society work throughout the southwest and will have much to say that is of general interest. The public is therefore urged to attend this meeting and learn something of the humane work being carried on in Southern California and particularly in Glendale, states Edwin Kulp, president of the local society.

The meeting is called for 8 o'clock and will start promptly, Mr. Kulp states.

DEVELOPMENT OF STREET SOUGHT

Opening and Extension of Fourth to Business District Is Being Urged

what has been done and is being done by the city of Glendale toward the opening and extending and improving of Fourth street, and such other streets, as Gilbert street, which constitute or may constitute actual continuations of the present Fourth street from Burbank city limits to the heart of Glendale's business district; and the ultimate creation of a through thoroughfare by way of such streets and of the streets opened, or to be opened, through co-operation of the cities of Glendale, Burbank, Pasadena and the county of Los Angeles, from the westerly limits of Burbank to the city of Pasadena, via Scholl canyon."

Value to District

In opening the meeting Mr. Gyger stressed the fact that such an association could be of inestimable value to the districts now served by Fourth street and Gilbert street, and in assisting in the solution of problems such as postal service, the creation of crossings over or the lowering of the grade of the Pacific Electric right-of-way on the Glendale-Burbank line, and the improvement of streets intersecting or closely paralleling the proposed thoroughfare.

Mrs. J. A. Gyger was unanimously elected secretary of the association, and C. L. Jenkins named chairman of the membership committee. Working with Mr. Jenkins are Messrs. Vose, O. M. Newby and E. D. Knuchell and all those desiring to become members are to communicate with Mr. Jenkins at Glendale 2402-W or by postoffice box 301.

Other committees formed were one on work for the association, including Messrs. O. M. Newby, E. D. Knuchell and Vose; and another on constitution and by-laws, including Messrs. Hill, Gyger and Farrand.

Tells of Problems

E. B. Stone, who has charge of rights-of-way for the engineer's office of Glendale, was present and spoke of the problems of his work. He spoke favorably of the formation of the new organization. He had with him maps showing the route of the proposed improvement.

Future meetings of the association are to be held on the first and third Thursday nights of each month at the Grand View school. The next meeting will be at 7 o'clock the night of February 7.

DEMANDS DINES BE PUT UNDER GUARD

District Attorney Declares There Is Plot to Hide Facts on Shooting

Keyes asked that Greer's preliminary hearing be continued until Dines has recovered sufficiently from the wound inflicted by Greer to be brought into court and submitted to a grilling cross-examination on the startling "I don't remember" testimony he gave when court was held at his bedside at the Good Samaritan hospital.

The district attorney declared that in addition to placing Dines under $10,000 bond he would post a guard at the hospital to prevent Dines from making a sudden unexpected departure from the jurisdiction of California courts.

"Truth Concealed

"It appears to me, as district attorney of Los Angeles county, that in the People vs. Greer, who is charged with assault to commit murder, one C. S. Dines, the truth concerning the shooting of said Dines has not been brought to light," Keyes declared in a signed statement.

"From an examination of the statements made by Dines, first to the police and, subsequently to Justice of the Peace Hanby, it seems to be clear that Mr. Dines has attempted to cover up material facts in connection with the shooting. I insist that the truth concerning the shooting shall be put before the court that absolute justice may be done, and for this reason I am requesting the justice to put Dines under sufficient bond to insure his appearance in court for further examination and testimony at such time as his physical condition will permit."

Keyes' action, it was learned, came at a moment when Greer's freedom was almost within his grasp. Dines' remarkable "lapse of memory" was said to have weakened the prosecution's case to such an extent that a dismissal of the charge against the chauffeur for lack of evidence was almost inevitable.

ATTORNEYS' CODE DIRECTS MORALS

Canon of Ethics Fixes Rules For Admitting Lawyers To Practice

DENVER, Jan. 23.—A canon of ethics for the legal profession and new rules for the admission of attorneys to practice law in Colorado have been promulgated by the Supreme Court of Colorado.

The philosophy of morals, the first recognized rule of ethics to be laid down in the Centennial State is based upon the code adopted in practically all states of the union dealing with the relations of lawyers to the courts, to their clients and to others engaged in the legal profession. In outlining the duties of a lawyer, the canon of ethics says in part:

"No client, corporation of individual, however powerful, nor any cause, civil or political, however important, is entitled to receive, nor should any lawyer render any service or advice involving disloyalty to the law, or disrespect of the judicial office, or corruption of any person exercising a public office or private trust, or deception or betrayal of the public.

Fidelity to Trust

"A lawyer will find his highest honor in a deserved reputation for fidelity to private trust and to public duty, as an honest man and as a patriotic and loyal citizen.

"It is the duty of the bar to endeavor to prevent political considerations from outweighing judicial fitness in the selection of judges.

"The primary duty of a lawyer engaged in public prosecution is not to convict, but to see that justice is done. The suppression of facts or the secreting of witnesses capable of establishing the innocence of the accused is highly reprehensible.

"In fixing fees it should never be forgotten that the profession is a branch of the administration of justice and not a mere money-getting trade. Lawyers should avoid charges that overestimate their advice and services, as well as those which undervalue them. A client's ability to pay cannot justify a charge in excess of the value of the service, though his poverty may require a less charge, or even none at all.

"All attempts to curry favor with juries by fawning, flattery or pretended solicitude for their personal comfort are unprofessional.

"Solicitation of business by circulars or advertisements, or by personal communications or interviews, is unprofessional.

Indictable Offense

"It is unprofessional for a lawyer to volunteer advice to bring a lawsuit. Stirring up strife and litigation is not only unprofessional but it is indictable at common law.

"The lawyer must decline to conduct a civil cause or to make a defense when convinced that it is intended merely to harass or to injure the opposite party or to work oppression or wrong."

The new rules for admission of attorneys to the bar provide that if an application for admission is filed after Jan. 1, 1927, the applicant "shall furnish proof that at the beginning of his law studies, or within six months thereafter, he had a general education in addition to a high school course, equivalent to that of one year of an ordinary undergraduate course in an approved college or university."

This is a new requirement in Colorado and puts the state in the front rank of states so far as educational requirements are concerned.

LAUGHTER, TEARS BLENDED IN PLAY

'When a Man Marries' to Be This Week's Offering Of Royal Players

The first performance in Southern California of "When a Man Marries" will be given tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre on Central avenue at Lexington drive, when the Royal Stock company open the sixth week of their season with this great play of modern family life.

Edythe Elliott will be seen in a particularly fine part in this new offering, declares Charles E. Royal, manager of the company that bears his name.

"A beautiful love story indeed is 'When a Man Marries,' blended with laughter and tears by a master playwright," he ssays. "It offers us an opportunity for the most intense acting we have done to date and should prove a real treat to theatregoers."

The curtain rises promptly at 8:20 o'clock each night, with a 2:30 o'clock Saturday matinee. Friday night and Saturday afternoon performances will be special benefits for the Parent-Teacher association, when additional features, appealing particularly to children, are announced.

Lima, Peru, Dimmed by Ohio Namesake's Fame

LIMA, O., Jan. 23.—Although Lima, Ohio, was named for Lima, Peru, it has passed its namesake, from the viewpoint of world renown—at least in the estimation of foreign and domestic postal authorities.

Mail consigned to the Italian Legation at Lima, Peru, was delivered to the Republican-Gazette, a morning newspaper, here by post office authorities. It bore the inscription. "R. Legatione d'Italia, LIMA," the Italian authorities not thinking it necessary to add "Peru."

Across the top was the inscription "Gazetta Ufficiale del Regne d'Italia." indicating the contents. The puzzled mail clerks here decided to deliver it to the nearest "Gazette" — and that newspaper got it.

It resumed its long journey to Peru a few days ago.

Long Distance Phone Cure for Stuttering

RENO, Nev., Jan. 23.—As a temporary cure for stuttering, try the long-distance telephone.

Gilbert ("Trux") Howell, champion stutterer of the University of Nevada, swordsman and war veteran, says it works.

Howell talked $4.50 worth over the long-distance telephone to Chicago last week.

"W-w-ould you b-b-b'lieve it, I-I-I never s-s-stut-tered o-o-once," he stuttered. "H-h-how c-c-c-could I when I-I had to p-p-pay, p-p-pay for it?"

be engaged in the filling station business.

Family trouble is said by neighbors to be the cause of the tragedy, according to police report. Grief-stricken over the alleged breaking up of her home, the half crazed woman is believed to have started the fire and then slain herself, hoping to thus carry with her into eternity her four children, whom she could not bear to leave behind.

Evidence of Suicide

The children are being cross-examined to discover if any of them can tell what took place prior to the tragedy. The presence of powder burns in the vicinity of the wound leads Captain Cline of the detective bureau, Los Angeles police department, to declare death the result of suicide.

However, in view of several conflicting bits of evidence, a most thorough investigation will be made, the police say.

Girl Baby Born on Train Named Nevada

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Mrs. W. M. Alvitree, of New York, and her new-born baby were resting in a hospital here today, following a strenuous trip from the east. The baby, a girl, was born as a fast train thundered through Halleck, Nev.

Mrs. Alvitree, whose husband W. M. Alvitree, died in New York five months ago, was hurrying to relatives at Salinas, Cal., when she was overtaken by the stork. The train conductor, warned of the coming of a new passenger, telegraphed ahead for a physician, who boarded the train at Montello, Nev. After the doctor arrived the train sped across 85 miles of Nevada waste lands before the stork arrived.

The little girl, who proved a healthy, bouncing baby, will be named "Nevada."

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 23.—A novel scheme for speeding up eating in rush periods is employed by local restaurateurs. They set their clocks five to ten minutes ahead. Patrons view the advancing hour with alarm, hastily finish their meals and dash back to work, leaving room for new customers.

Pups and Pigs Pay Girl's College Course

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 23.—Bull pups plus hogs equal a college education, in the vocabulary of Miss Olive Cruickshank, of Des Moines. Miss Cruickshank is working her way through Des Moines university via the bulldog and porker route.

The young co-ed started her educational financing with a full-breed sow. Today the sow has a family of sixteen that sell for fancy prices.

The Boston bull terriers are a recent acquisition to Miss Cruickshank's financing. A short time ago four puppies arrived, and she sells them for $150 each and the mother is valued at $250.

League's Friends Aid Peace Award Project

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Bok peace award was managed by an organization almost unanimously in favor of the League of Nations, Miss Eleanor Lape, executive chairman, admitted in testifying today before the Senate committee investigating propaganda.

Eight of the twelve members of the policy committee which was the majority of the jury which awarded the $100,000 prize, were favorable to the league, she said, but denied again and again that the league attitude of members had anything to do with their selection.

Three Engine Aircraft Favored by Britain

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The three-engined aircraft machine has been accepted by the British Air Ministry as the standard bombing machine in time of war, and already orders have been placed with aircraft manufacturers for designs and machines.

Essentials to be embodied in the designs include ability to fly with little loss of power on two engines. Designs for a central engine of 450 horsepower and two engines of 240 horsepower—one on each side—will be favored, it is understood.

Hunt for Will Left By Dr. Abrams Futile

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Despite the fact that the late Dr. Albert Abrams left a letter stating his will would be found in a safety deposit box, it was revealed today that efforts to locate the document have been futile. Through attorneys his relatives have asked that special letters of administration be issued so that they may examine the estate and search for the missing will.

BODY OF LENINE IN FORMER PALACE

Policies of Dead Chief to Be Carried Out, Is Plan of Soviet

with workers in ragged jackets and coarse boots and women with shawls pulled over their heads.

All places of amusement and schools in Moscow were closed. There was not even a tolling of bells. It was a city of dead silence.

Official newspapers appeared with borders of black and all printed long obituaries of the dead leader, extolling his principles and expressing the hope that the soviet government would carry them out.

Members of the council of people's commissaires (the red cabinet) conferred among themselves. It was announced that the government would continue the work it was carrying out when Lenine died.

The foreign office was flooded with cablegrams of condolence and sympathy.

It was believed in some quarters that the passing of Lenine will tend to reunite the two factions of the communist party.

Moderates said they believed that all differences among the communists will vanish at the grave of Lenine.

Among the candidates for Lenine's post as president of the council of people's commissaires are Dzershinsky, Rikoff, Stalit and Kamenev, but it is likely that a triumvirate will carry on. This triumvirate will consist of Stalen, Zinoviev and Kamenev, three of "the strong men" of the communist "old guard."

Red troops were detailed to escort the body of Lenine upon its arrival this afternoon.

ADMITS HITTING OF FIRST BLOW

J. M. Barnett Says He Struck W. M. Brown, Who Then Used His Pistol

That he struck the first blow in the dispute which preceded the shooting was admitted today by J. M. Barnett, 110 East Fifty-fifth street, Los Angeles, when he took the stand as the principal witness for the state against Wallace W. Brown, 721 West California street, who is charged with the shooting.

Brown, according to the prosecution, shot Barnett during a quarrel brought on by the continued honking of Barnett's auto horn outside the residence of L. Wilson, 325 North Concord avenue, shortly after midnight last Thanksgiving, where an all-day party had been in progress.

Brown is having his preliminary hearing before Judge Harry W. Chase, who is sitting in Judge F. H. Lowe's court, owing to the latter's illness. Barnett testified that while seated in his machine with Mr. Wilson he noticed Brown approach him from across the street, and when he reached the car, the witness said, he got out, went around the rear of the car, stepped up to Brown and "took a poke" at him. The blow was glancing, however, and did not knock Brown down, he claimed. He then stated that Brown drew his revolver and fired, striking Barnett in the side.

Denies Any Drinking

He denied that he had honked his auto horn "more than five or six times," or that there had been "anything to drink" at the Wilson party, which the defense seeks to establish. He testified that prior to the shooting "all the talking had been done by Brown."

Dr. C. F. Tuomy, 318 Griswold street, who attended the injured man, testified as to the location of the bullet, which was determined by an X-ray; and also as to the operation for the extraction of the bullet, which he performed in company with Dr. O. A. Dietrich. He stated that as far as they could determine, Barnett had not been drinking, as there was no evidence to indicate this fact, although the stomach of the injured man was pumped out shortly after he was removed to the hospital.

Serious Condition

Herbert S. G. McCartney, deputy district attorney, is conducting the prosecution. Attorney Randall J. Hood of Los Angeles is chief counsel for the defense.

Barnett, who was in a serious condition for a week after the shooting, limped to the stand and stated that the bullet, which lodged in his spine, had partially paralyzed his limbs.

He denied strenuously on cross examination by the defense that he had been drinking, or that he had been honking his horn for any length of time. His wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilson, who were standing by the machine at the time of the shooting, took the stand later in the day. The hearing is still going on this afternoon.

London Traffic Evils Laid to Julius Caesar

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Julius Caesar is to blame for the present chaotic condition of London's traffic, according to H. H. Gordon, member of London's municipal government.

Gordon blames Julius Caesar because the main streets of London were laid out by the Romans during Julius' time, with the result, according to Gordon, that in no other city of the world are the highways so chaotic.

BANKS PLAN MERGER

SEATTLE, Jan. 23.—Consolidation of the Union National bank and the Dexter Horton National bank is in prospect, according to unofficial information available in financial circles here.

County Clerk May Be Marriage Official

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—To expedite the handling of civil marriages in Los Angeles county, a plan to give some person connected with the license department of the county clerk's office legal qualifications to perform wedding ceremonies is advocated by Supervisor J. H. Bean.

The plan would net the county more than $25,000 annually if it is adopted, it is said. This money is now paid to justices of the peace, it is claimed. While no fixed fee is charged for tying the knot, generally the bridegroom figures the job is worth $5.

Of the 17,322 couples that secured marriage licenses in 1923, more than 5,000 of them were married by justices of the peace, it is said. Inauguration of the new plan would reduce their income from this source about 50 per cent, it is claimed.

In outlining his plan, Supervisor Bean said the same thing was being done in New York City, but no money can be accepted by the marriage commissioner.

POISON LETTERS AROUSE SCANDAL

English Town Is Stirred By Anonymous Notes Sent Out Through Mail

SHERIGHAM, Eng., Jan. 23.—The tongues of this quaint old town have been wagging vigorously for five months past.

Scandal, concerning some of the wealthiest people in the town, has been spread by nearly every mail. The postman brought many a fine, juicy morsel in anonymous letters.

Now the letters have been made public, and the whole countryside is agog, for Dorothy Myrtle Thurburn, aged 23, has been haled into the police court at Cromer and formally charged with having published a series of defamatory libels.

Miss Thurburn is a pretty, demure little miss, very girlish in appearance. She has indignantly denied that she had ever "written a single anonymous letter or postcard" in her life. The prosecution charges, however, that watch was kept on the mailboxes and that Miss Thurburn was seen to post letters and that when the box was opened anonymous letters were found inside.

Maid Unperturbed

The demure young miss attended the first hearing of her case and was quite undisturbed by the proceedings. Dr. Vere Stacpoole, famous novelist, stood as one of her sureties when she was released on $3000 bail after the preliminary hearing.

Publication of the anonymous letters has brought more than a snicker, for the whole countryside is laughing and wondering.

One postcard, sent to Mrs. Murray, wife of Commander Murray, reads:

"Mrs. Christopherson need not have been jealous of you and her old boy. She is in love with one of her servants."

Mrs. Marguerite Christopherson, to whom the above evidently refers, is one of the leading citizens of Sheringham and charges that she has been libeled on nine separate occasions.

"You spiteful, jealous old cat and she-devil!" said a letter received by Mrs. Ethel Copeman. "So you let your friend, Doris Hewitt, meet your old boy; but inquire into her past. But you won't let the Thurburn girl meet him. You see she has not a past like that of Doris. Everyone will be written to warning them about you and the old Christopherson girl. You both are spiteful, jealous, ugly cats!"

"Old Chrisopherson girl cannot talk," said another letter to Mrs. Copeman. "Look at her with the man who drives her car. You ask her where she sits right out in the country. He calls her "C." and she calls him "J." You are (1) new rich, (2) a very old woman trying to be young, (3) an evil-tongued mischief-maker—a jealous, spiteful old cat, and you have yellow-dyed hair!"

Stanley Christopherson received the following letter: "Mrs. Christopherson is a wicked, fast woman, and she is in love with her servant, Johnnie, and does not care a damn for her husband. Johnnie has stayed with the Christopherson girl during the war. . . . What about the times the Christopherson girl has with Johnnie in London?"

Lady Bainbridge received a letter in terms similar to these.

These letters have supplied the "fireside leagues" of Sheringham with winter munitions. No matter what the outcome of the charges against pretty Dorothy Thurburn Sheringham has something to talk about for months to come.

The Scope of Chiropractic

Chiropractic is becoming more and more a household word as the people become aware of the benefits to be gained therefrom, still thousands are lying upon sick beds or dragging out a miserable existence, never realizing the wonderful possibilities of health within their easy grasp. They are in the position of the man sailing as he thought in the salt waters of the sea and parched for a drink of fresh water, who eventually discovered he had been in the refreshing Gulf stream all the time if he had only dipped down and partaken.

We are constantly asked, is Chiropractic good for this or that? Which indicates that many people do not understand the relation of our science to the function of every and all tissues of our bodies.

We cheerfully explain to you WHY Chiropractic is applicable to every conceivable abnormality in the body. This does not mean that all will get well under Chiropractic, nor does it change the fact "that it is appointed unto man once to die," but it does mean that in proportion to the ability of your tissues to respond to the application of Chiropractic will be the extent of your recovery and the remarkable record of recoveries certainly warrants an attempt on your part.

CLEVELAND WILL GREET REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Many Thousands Expected To Attend Great Gathering Of G. O. P.

Cleveland Public Hall, Interior & Exterior Roscoe J. Tompkins

By WILLIAM J. HUSKE
For International News Service.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 23.—Elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the Republican National convention here next June are already under way, and within a few weeks local committees in charge of every detail to assure success of the gathering will be functioning.

It was expected the convention would bring to Cleveland the largest influx of visitors in the history of the city, but on every hand was heard the confident prediction that hotels and rooming houses and private residences which will be thrown open to house the overflow will amply take care of the thousands who will come here next summer to see the Republican party nominate its standard-bearer.

Expect Thousands

In addition to the more than one thousand delegates and an equal number of newspaper men and alternates, there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who make attendance upon a national political convention a rite every fourth year. The tremendous growth of the automobile and of "auto tourists" who will make Cleveland a stopping place during the hectic convention days is another factor which, it was predicted, would add largely to the crowds.

The public hall, erected as a municipal enterprise a few years ago, has a seating capacity of 14,000. It is said to be the largest and finest structure of its kind in the United States. Its acoustic properties have stood every test, and with the use of amplifiers such as first made their appearance at conventions four years ago, it was said the voice of every speaker would be distinctly audible to every one fortunate enough to gain a seat in the enclosure.

To Install Radio

However, this will be far from the total of persons who will hear the "keynote" sounded or the praises of President Coolidge, Senator Johnson and other candidates sung by the fervid orators at the mighty gathering. The Cleveland convention will go down in history as the first the entire proceedings of which will be broadcast by radio. Scarcely had news reached here of the selection of the convention city when plans were under way for the installation of a powerful broadcasting station, and the farmer on the plains of Kansas or from the wheat fields of the Dakotas, as well as the banker in Wall Street or in cultured Boston, will have an opportunity—provided he is equipped with a first-class receiving set—to hear everything which takes place at the open sessions of the convention without leaving his home.

Facilities Ideal

A survey of convention facilities made by Roscoe J. Tompkins, chairman of the hotel committee and manager of the Hollenden hotel showed that Cleveland has more than 17,000 first-class hotel rooms at the disposal of convention guests. This total includes only recognized first-class hotels and when other hotels, rooming houses and private residences are taken into consideration it was said the vast crowd would be amply housed. Restaurant facilities here are also excellent, so the hungry are assured of their "three squares," restaurant men asserted.

While no official announcement has yet been made as to headquarters reports were in circulation that William Butler, manager of the Coolidge central campaign committee, had reserved a suite at the Hollenden. Friends of Senator Johnson were reported to have made reservations at the Hotel Cleveland, a few squares away, and it was said that Pinchot and La Follette forces would take headquarters at the Statler and Winton, respectively.

These Three Did It

Credit for securing the convention for Cleveland is given here to three men, Roscoe J. Tompkins, former manager of the Blackstone hotel, Chicago, now vice-president and general manager of the Hollhelenden, and Colonel Carmi A. Thompson.

Tompkins, veteran of many conventions in Chicago, took charge of the campaign to raise the necessary $125,000 fund to assure convention expenses when others' interest in the project seemed to lag. He personally secured pledges from the hotels to put up $50,000 of the amount and aided largely in the work of securing other subscriptions.

Tompkins now is in charge of the task of assigning headquarters to the various states and apportioning the delegates so that there may be no unnecessary crowding.

"We are arranging to serve the national committee, the convention delegates and visitors so well that they will appreciate Cleveland as the best convention city in the United States," Tompkins said.

The pictures are of Roscoe J. Tompkins, vice-president and general manager of Hollenden Hotel, which will probably be Coolidge headquarters at Republican National convention; exterior view of Cleveland's public hall, largest and finest auditorium in the United States, with seats for more than 14,000, and interior view of the public hall, where, Republican hosts will gather next June to name candidates for President and Vice-President and write platform.

ODD FELLOWS TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Ceremonies Will Be Staged In Local Lodge Room January 24th

Installation of newly elected officers of I. O. O. F. lodge No. 338 will be held Thursday night, January 24, in the lodge rooms, 111-A West Broadway, it is announced.

George H. Fuller, district deputy grand master from Lancaster, and his staff will act as installing officers.

The following officers will be installed: H. T. Stevens, noble grand; H. W. Hollenbeck, vice garnd; Howard Stanley, recording secretary; Charles Stanley financial secretary; Charles Pease, treasurer; Lee Murdock, trustee.

All members are urged to be in attendance and all visiting brothers are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

The new robes will be on exhibition at the Thursday meeting.

After the installation an informal social hour and refreshments will be enjoyed.

Fix Date to Receive New Library Building

The new Mary Clapp $150,000 library building at Occidental College is nearing completion and the trustees have set the day, Wednesday, April 23, for the formal receiving of the beautiful structure by the president of the institution, R. D. Bird. This magnificent new building, which is much needed at Occidental, is the generous gift of Mrs. Mary Norton of Pasadena as a memorial to her daughter, Mrs. Mary Clapp.

There will be no finer library in the country than that under construction at the Tiger college. The best materials obtainable are being used. Only the most modern and efficient equipment will be found in this library. The exterior of the building is already finished, but there is still some work to be done on the interior.

Plan Examinations As Semester Closes

The first semester of the Occidental College year is drawing to a close shortly. Final semester examinations begin Friday morning and will continue through Wednesday of next week. Registration for the second semester is now open for the students at Oxy. Registration for new students will be from January 31-February 2.

LAST GREAT CHIEF OF AHWAHNEE DIES

Peter Westfall Calls Braves to Council and Bids Them Be Civilized

RAYMOND, Cal., Jan. 23.—With the passing of Peter Westfall, the last big chief of the Ahwahnee trible of Indians is a memory.

Prior to his death, which occurred at 4 a. m., Chief Peter called his braves in council and advocated that they abandon the ancient customs and laws after the Great Spirit had summoned him. No more chiefs but a civilized community patterned after the white man's civilization, was the expressed dying wish of the Indian leader.

The funeral dirge which one hundred members of the tribe wailed today is the last which will ever be heard for a dead chieftain in response to the wishes of their late leader.

Nobody knows just how old Peter Westfall was. He was born before the first white man made his appearance in this region. His real name no white man knows because the Ahwahnees never would mention in the presence of strangers by blood.

His wife, Louise, survives him. She is an educated woman and the first of the tribe to adopt the sewing machine. Two sons, John and Elf, and a daughter, Jessie, are living and three sisters are among the mourners.

The name Westfall came to the chief because in earlier days he worked for a county supervisor of that name.

The dead chief's thumbprint adorned the Lost Treaty which guaranteed land for the tribe, and which, like many other pacts with the white men, resolved itself into a mere "scrap of paper."

STATE WILL CAST OUT FROZEN FRUIT

No Shipments of Damaged Oranges and Lemons May Be Made

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—No frozen oranges or lemons will be shipped out of the state if it is in the power of the state department of agriculture to prevent it. S. S. Rogers, assistant chief of the bureau of standardization of the agricultural department, left today for Southern California to contrive plans with the various county horticultural commissioners to forestall any such shipments.

G. H. Hecke, director of the state department of agriculture, says reports indicate approximately ten per cent of the orange crop was damaged by frost.

"Shipment of frozen oranges to eastern markets will prove disastrous," said Hecke, "and this department will do all in its power to prevent such shipments. The department earnestly solicits the co-operation of orange growers and shippers in this matter."

Rogers will spend several days in Los Angeles county and then proceed to Ventura county to assist County Horticultural Commissioner A. H. Call in halting shipments of frozen fruit from that section.

SLAYERS ESCAPE

SAN FERNANDO, Jan. 23.—Shot and mortally wounded during a street fight with another man here Monday over a woman whose name was not learned, Isas Benalez, a Mexican, was taken to the Los Angeles General hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. The alleged slayer, Jesus Casarez, escaped.

MADRIGAL CLUB'S CONCERT PLEASES

Brilliant Performance Wins Enthusiastic Approval For Artists' Work

The first concert of the fifth season of the Glendale Madrigal club has now become part of the history of this prominent musical organization, and after its record success may be written in glowing letters, for the singers, Mrs. Charles A. Parker, director; Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb, accompanist, and the assisting artists, were accorded highest praises by the audience of more than 300 persons hearing the concert last night in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Talent is an outstanding feature of the Madrigal club and furnishes the sound foundation for the clever directing of Mrs. Parker. Every member is a real singer, evidence of which is given each time the club makes a public appearance. Their repertoire includes solo, duet, trio, quartet and ensemble work and last night the program was of such a varied nature that the ability of the singers was beautifully displayed.

Assisting with the program were J. Arthur Myers, tenor; Flora Phyllis Kilpatrick, soprano, soloists; and the Glendale trio, including Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb, pianist; J. Arthur Myers, cellist, and Julius Kranz, violinist.

Club's Numbers

Opening the program were three ensemble numbers by the club, "The Dark Witch" (Paul Ambrose), "Fairy Hills of Dreams" (Elinor R. Warren), and "Tally-Ho!" (F. Leoni).

Then followed the appearance of the Glendale trio, playing "Trio in C Moll" (Arthur Foote) (First and Second movements). They later played "Abendlied" (Schumann), "Contretanz" (Gade) and "Slavic Dance No. 16" (Dvorak). While their earlier number on the program was beautifully done and of real musical worth as a classical composition, the latter group was perhaps the most enjoyable.

The singing of "Cupid Made Love to the Moon" (Dudley Smith), by Vera Schlotzhauer and club was heartily received by the audience and so prolonged was the applause that the number was repeated.

Other equally as enjoyable numbers were "The Wish" (Cadman), by the club; "Kentucky Babe" (Geibel), and "Kiver Up Your Haid" (Payson), by Mrs. John Ray and club; the Spanish waltz song "La Spagnola" (Vicenzo Di Chiara) (Bolero), by Mrs. C. L. Viereck, Mrs. Charles Meadows, Mrs. John Cotton and club; "Irish Love Song" (Lang), "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child" (Burleigh), by the club; "Humoresque-Swanee River" (Dvorak-Wilson), by the club with violin obligato by Julius Kranz.

The song groups by Miss Kilpatrick, soprano, and J. Arthur Myers, tenor, were features of the program.

Miss Kilpatrick's group was of special interest for she sang two songs written by Hallett Gilberte, who, with Mrs. Gilberte, attended the concert. Her first songs were "Mia Piccrella" from the opera "Salvator Rosa" (Gomes), "Memory" (Rudolph Ganz), and "Margarita" (E. Meyer-Helmund). For these she was accompanied by Mrs. Erb. Mr. Gilberte was then invited from the audience to the stage to accompany Miss Kilpatrick in singing his "The Sweet Spring Night." Another of his compositions was given as an encore.

Mr. Myers sang in his usual splendid style "Vesta La Giubba" from Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo,) "Tears of God" (Dent Mowbry) and "Tommy Lad" (Margetson). He was greeted with much applause and returned for an encore.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Paul A. Hoffman, president; Mrs. Helen MacMullin, vice-president; Mrs. H. V. Henry, secretary; Mrs. A. R. Chappell, treasurer; Mrs. C. L. Viereck, librarian; Mrs. H. L. Bullinger, Mrs. L. E. Richardson, Mrs. John Ray, directors.

The active members art Mesdames J. Ray Bentley, H. S. Bullinger, A. R. Chappell, B. L. Cline, John Cotton, C. Cressey, A. M. Draper, Paul Elliott, Carrie Frahm, E. Hensel, H. V. Henry, Susie J. Hill, Paul Hoffman, B. O. Holbrook, William Kattleman, Bertha Kugler, N. M. Knause, W. A. Kulp, L. K. Markey, William McMullin, Charles H. Meadows, Walter Measday, E. B. Moore, S. S. Neighbors, C. A. Parker, John M. Ray, L. E. Richardson, Warren Roberts, Hartley Shaw, R. N. Slater, C. M. Taylor, C. L. Tuttle, C. L. Vierick, Roberta Young, E. W. Young and Misses Flora Kilpatrick and Vera Schlotzhauer.

Postpone Meeting of Board of Education

The regular meeting of the Board of Education, scheduled for last night, was postponed until Thursday on account of the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce.

The matter of the proposed consolidation of the board of education and the high school board of trustees will probably come up for discussion.

L. A. MAN SURRENDERS

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—While in Chicago on a business trip, Irving Simmons of Los Angeles surrendered Tuesday to federal authorities to answer to a charge in Texarkana, Ark., of having used the mails fraudulently. He is to be arraigned January 25. Simmons refused to discuss the charges.

WANT LEAGUE TO ASSIST INDIANS

Netherlands Governor Puts Row Over Canadian Land Before Arbiters

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 23.—Canada may be called to account for alleged violation of land rights of the Six Nations, of which the Onondaga Indian tribe is a member, George P. Decker, counsel for the Indians, has announced.

Through Holland, the Six Nations already have their plea for justice in the Canadian land dispute officially before the League, Decker said. The Netherlands government, appealed to by representatives of the Indians, formally placed the matter before the League.

The newest development in the fight of the Indians to force states in this country and provinces in Canada to pay the present-day price for lands which they allege the white man settled and built cities upon, although treaties list it as the property of the Indians, brings a North American dispute before the League of Nations for the first time.

In addition to placing their case before the League of Nations, the Indians have asked the League to invite them into membership, Decker said:

"The case is a challenge to imperialism, however masked. Will the League leave the surviving red men to be robbed of their manhood rights as their forefathers were robbed of land and robbed of life in defending their lands? If that shall happen it will happen with the wide world looking on, for Chief Deskaheh has already gotten world-wide publicity for the red man's cause.

Before League

"The case has already been formally brought to the attention of the Council of the League by the Netherlands government, whom the Six Nations asked to intervene under the express warrant of the covenant, when Canada invaded the territory of the peaceful Six Nations with armed redcoats last December. Canada and the United States, too, may yet be brought to answer before the organized opinion of mankind for regarding solemn treaties made with red men as scraps of paper and doing it behind the false pretense that the matter is a domestic concern of the self-willed governments at Ottawa and Washington.

"We may believe that the Peace Conference at Versailles little dreamed that a handful of Iroquois would some day come to the permanent League they were creating, and come with a cause which would test the courage or probe the sincerity of the nations great in population, in military and naval armaments, who were there establishing a tribunal pledged to secure international justice for separate peoples with God-given rights to their own home life and rule, but with no armaments beyond the justice of their cause."

Unlicensed Operators of Stages Convicted

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Complaints made to the auto stage department of the railroad commission by persons who had been victimized by unlicensed auto stage operators resulted in the arrest and conviction Tuesday of three operators.

The complaints in these cases were to the effect that prospective passengers were solicited by drivers of alleged stage services between San Francisco and Los Angeles, who offered reduced rates.

Passengers on these stages complained that after they had paid the fare demanded, and had been transported a few miles outside the city of San Francisco, the driver pretended that the stage had broken down and requested his passengers to wait on the highway until he visited a garage, with the promise he would return for them. It was reported that the stage failed to return for the passengers and they were unable to continue their trip or obtain a refund of their fares.

State Chief of Legion Indorses Compensation

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Declaration that the tax reduction as endorsed by President Coolidge can be made without sacrificing the obligation owed to the veterans of the world war, today was made by James F. Collins, state commander of the American Legion in a statement challenging the opponents of the adjusted compensation bill.

"Tax reduction can be had without sacrificing the good name of this nation to the great majority of its loyal citizens who served in uniform," said Collins in his first official statement.

Affirming that the adjusted compensation bill now before congress has been consistently supported by the national organization of the American Legion, Collins added that "the stand of the national organization has come from the expressions of opinion from the vast majority of membership within the forty-eight states.

OXY TRACK TEAM READY FOR MEET

Tiger Athletes Working Out Daily for Inter-Class Battle Saturday

Plans are complete for the inter-class track meet at Occidental college next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The annual inter-class novice meet was held last Friday and the frosh won hands down. However, the real class rivalry will be much in evidence when the pick of the athletes compete for their respective classes. The seniors, with Cliff Argue, Phil Ellsworth, Tony Spangler, Art Garey and Phil Buckman, are counted the favorites.

Coach Pipal has a whole flock of scantily clad tracksters doing their stuff daily, and they are fast rounding into condition. With the old Tiger fight, Oxy expects to trounce all comers and is not worried over the conference title. They appear to have it cinched. On March 8, when Cromwell's hand-picked Trojans face the Tiger pack, war will certainly be declared. Oxy's championship track team of last season, with the exception of Sloan, is back and as good as ever if not better. Captain Phil Ellsworth specializes in the 880-yard run and has been stepping right ahead. Phil will undoubtedly be one of the members of the Tiger four-man relay team again this year. Argue is the best bet in the 100-yard dash, with Morey, Nash and Buckman close on his heels. Spangler leads the field in the 220 and 440 with Morey, Nash and Argue affording keen competition. Nick Carter has the mile cinched. Ernest Giffen has to perform in the two-mile race and also in the 880.

Jumpers and Vaulters

Don Condit has returned to run high sticks once more and is getting back to his old form and speed. Roy Goodenough is the mean pole vault artist who challenges all. Frank Bradshaw is again performing in the broad and high jump. Squint Fulton has the shot-put championship of the institution. Johnny Powers and Art Garey are both determined to make the fast four-man relay team once more. Dave Ridderhoff swings the hammer and tosses the discus. Gordon Shoaf is also at home with the discus. Ebers devotes his time mainly to pole vaulting and throwing the discus. Clair Morrow is the only javelin thrower in school that can sail a mean Roman spear.

The Tiger track men are taking practice in earnest and results are evident. The men are looking forward to meeting the best teams in the country. U. C., Stanford and possibly California are scheduled. The Penn and Drake relays will find Occidental in the list of entries.

They have the best track team for many a season and should not have to depend on winning the relay to cop the Pomona dual meet and the Conference meet as was the case last year.

Loss of Star Hurts Oxy Basketball Team

Coach Nichols, basketball mentor at Occidental, is hard hit by the loss of Ross Parks, demon forward. Parks was rated as one of the best casaba shooters in the south and great things were looked for from him. However, he was dropped from college because of low scholarship grades.

Nichols is now endeavoring to work out a new system and build his team around the lettermen left from last year's squad. The coach has finally weeded out his candidates and selected twelve for the squad. Ten of these will compose the team that leaves January 29 on a ten-day northern tour to Stockton, meeting the fastest teams in that district.

Those who were selected and who will make up the Tiger varsity basketball team for the remainder of the season are: Captain Harold Wagner, Clarence Ebers, Larry Johnson, George Forden, Ed Chandler, C. Morrow, Dave Ridderhoff, Bob Sackett, Bullet Hazeltine, Roy Wheeler, Bill McInnis and George Stoller.

Rumors, Denials, Alibis

By F. A. GRAHAM

Did you know that the Tujunga Valley baseball team has disbanded? We thought not. Did you know there was a team by that name? Just as we suspected.

A year ago at this time Tujunga valley was going like a house afire in the San Fernando Valley League. Factional and personal differences among some of the managers caused a change in management and finally withdrawal from the pennant chase when Tujunga Valley was on the verge of winning the flag. There is little doubt that Tujunga would have finished one-two had the schedule been finished with an eye to baseball instead of personal grievances. The American Legion Post 8 team had been twice walloped and others defeated consistently. Van Nuys, the team that finally won the pennant and later the Winter League championship, had been met once and held to a 4 to 4 tie in a game where Tujunga got no breaks. The team had confidence, they played together and the result was well oiled baseball. They were at the top and due to finish there when the internal strife came. Metten, the pitcher, who later finished last season with Van Nuys and who was a big factor in the winning of the championship for them, was with Tujunga Valley and was going good. He had won eight straight games and the boys had visions of spending the prize money. But some prima donna complexes took possession of some of the leaders, and blooey! went the prize money, pennant and the works. After this blow off an attempt was made to reorganize and for a time the team played independent ball and appeared to be getting back the stride, but they didn't have the snap and the team work and so went slumping along until a couple of weeks ago and agreed to call it quits. There is a good field at Monte Vista park, Sunland, where they played and there is no reason why a rightly managed team should not pay, with the park crowds to play to. The audience is made to order on this account, as every Sunday sees picnickers at the park.

From New York comes word that Harry Wills has been forced to cancel plans for four fights in the near future on account of breaking his right hand on a sparring partner. Wills' hands are said to be very brittle. In that case one asks what chance has he against Jack Dempsey? He certainly can't be expecting to tell Jack a funny story and then paste him with a dornick while convulsed with laughter. A man with brittle hands has no business playing keeps with Dempsey. Or is that brittle hand thing some publicity soup from the manager's ladle? Tommy Gibbons likes soup, and plenty of folks think he is just the boy to gargle Wills.

President of a golf club at Hempstead, N. Y., was playing on the links when he drove smack into a bluejay in flight. Both ball and jay came down together. Is this what is called getting a birdie? Or is it what is called something else?

Rumor says that Hank O'Day, major league umpire, will be seen on the coast this season. Then it says he won't. Furthermore, it was stated that Hank does not have to follow the national pastime for his daily pork chops, as he is a brother of a moneyed Standard Oil official. Well, well. And since when does relationship to a moneyed official constitute independence from earning a living? We have some moneyed relatives but they never exempted us from doing our daily dozen to pay the rent.

Art Griggs, veteran first sacker of many and many a campaign and for the last few years with Los Angeles, is slated for the skids, as far as Los Angeles is concerned. Flowery epitaphs are being held up to the Griggian nose as he steps down in favor of youth. 'Twas ever thus. Ball players and banana songs have much in common. Popular when young, but they soon grow old and are forgotten by fickle fans.

Did you know that Oscar Egg, is a six-day bicycle racer? Egg showed the way in races held at Chicago. Wouldn't it have been tear-if-fic if Egg had skidded and pulled a humpty-dumpty? And if some of the other riders had piled up on him would it have been an omelet?

Kearns is said to have stated that he will ask one million dollars for Dempsey's share in the next big fight. Now you know why they are both called "Jack."

A landlady in New York was awarded $500 in a municipal court damage suit against Luis Angel Firpo, heavyweight pugilistic pride of South America. She testified that Firpo tore the bed to pieces, among other things, and slept on the mattress on the floor. This confirms the rumor that Firpo is in training for another bout with Dempsey, who makes 'em all sleep on the floor.

Rocsoe Resident Is Injured In Accident

Charles McCartney of Primrose avenue, Roscoe, was slightly injured late yesterday afternoon when his car turned over as the result of an automobile crash at San Fernando road and Doran street. J. F. Clapper, also of Roscoe, who was riding with him at the time, was unhurt.

McCartney was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital by H. Eastman, Valencia avenue, Burbank, and George Farsworth, 230 Elm avenue, Glendale. His injuries were of a minor character.

LO, THE POOR JUDGE

Add to life's jovial pastimes the role of judge for boxing contests in New York state. Boxing judges have been charged with everything from wall eyes to prison stripes, yet it is extremely doubtful whether those responsible for this anguished bleat could improve on the general run of decisions rendered.

Recently Jack Bernstein and Sammy Mandell engaged in what was declared to be a draw. Damon Runyon, a foremost sport writer, thought that Bernstein had won away off by himself. Sid Mercer, another authority, declared for Mandell by a similar margin. A perfect stranger showed symptoms of wishing to attack the writer because he, the writer, favored Bernstein.

And they pay boxing judges $10 a night.

I. Drinkerdown Avidly, prominent in drinking circles, today was elected president of the Skofflaw Mutual Protective society.

"We skofflaws," said Mr. Avidly in accepting office, "must stand together."

Later he added: "If possible."

RISING TO A POINT OF ORDER

It is said that Willie Hoppe and Welker Cochran conducted their championship billiard match in Boston so close to a boxing club that the raucous bellows of the fight crowd disturbed their poise. The demeanor of the ring fans contrasted sharply with the perfect decorum of the billiard gathering, it was pointed out. It is not always thus.

Hoppe and Jake Schaefer were at a most critical point in their championship match a year ago at the Hotel Pennsylvania. White shirt fronts gleamed in the night and well-bred silence reigned heavy and portentous. Hoppe was stroking on a difficult shot.

"Mr. Referee!"

Everyone wheeled in shocked and outraged surprise upon a middle-aged gentleman, who had risen pompously to his feet at the rear of the room.

"Mr. Referee, will you kindly give me the correct score?"

The following is suggested as the official Pickpockets' Song: "Oh, Relieve Him of All Those Endearing Watch Charms."

SLOW MUSIC

The recent trade of George Burns from the Red Sox to the Indians indicates that the young man has attained stardom after being kicked all over the American league. George is now 31 years old and should be passing down over the wrong side of the hill after being in the league since 1914. Instead, it has taken him all that time to master the technique of playing first base. He always was a good hitter.

Burns broke in with the Tigers and did well for a while. However, he fell upon evil days and ruined so many plays that Ty Cobb called him Joe Gum. He was sold to the Yankees at the waiver price and immediately was shifted to Philadelphia in a trade for Ping Bodie.

He enjoyed moderate success under Mack but slumped and the Indians claimed him on waivers. Two years ago Burns, among others, was sent to Boston in the McInnes deal and became a real headliner with a tail-end outfit. The recent Boston-Cleveland deal was his vindication.

4-ROUND BOUTS LIKED ON COAST

Boxing Business Good and Fans Seem Satisfied With Shows

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Pacific coast boxing fans are generally taking the position of finding themselves quite content with four and six-round bouts in view of the mess caused by solons in New York in attempting to revise boxing laws. Plans in New York include eliminating referees, furnishing equal purses to opponents and otherwise playing havoc with boxing legislation.

While the short bouts may leave something to be desired, boxing is flourishing up and down the Pacific and now there are perhaps more leather throwers and more successful clubs in operation from California to the Canadian line than ever before.

Hang Out S. R. O. Signs

Two clubs are giving weekly cards in San Francisco; Tommy Simpson is offering extremely attractive cards across the bay in Oakland and nearby there are clubs in San Mateo, Vallejo and other cities. The game is booming in Los Angeles, San Pedro and the southland in central and northern California fans are offered frequent entertainments. In Oakland the attendance has been something to talk about. At some of the recent cards hundreds of fans have been turned away and the S. R. O. sign has been hung out even before the first prelim boys entered the ring.

Personal Mention

Dandy Dillon, midget boxer of Minneapolis, is one of the few eastern and middle-western lads who has been able to compete on the coast. Dillon boxes frequently and most of his bouts have been victories since he came to the coast. He's a contrast to Wildman Gould, much-touted Boston, who blew up in Oakland. Once he was chased from the ring for biting Teddy O'Hara. In a second bout O'Hara copped the decision. The Bostonian didn't show much.

Billy Shade, one of the three fighting California Shades, has sailed for the east and south. He will meet Young Stribling, the Georgia high school boy, who defeated Mike McTigue, within a short time. Before Shade departed he succumbed to Racehorse Roberts.

Some Fail to Make Good

Johnny Buff, former bantamweight titleholder, Jack Sharkey, Midget Smith and Marty Cross are a few eastern battlers who did not get along on the coast. The four-round racket did not suit them at all. Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul protege of Mike Gibbons, is notable among the invaders who have made good out west. Delaney is a middleweight but has defeated numerous light heavyweights.

RED SOX SOLD OUT AND NOW ON MEND

Quinn Has Job to Undo Frazee's Work, Says Sporting Scribe

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Having been dismantled, disrupted, disorganized and laid waste by the player deals of a former owner, the Boston Red Sox are being built anew on the ruins of their former greatness by a new and progressive regime. At the start of the 1923 season the Sox were considered hopeless and proceeded to prove it by finishing last.

They had been reduced from the status of world's champions to a joke outfit in the comparatively brief interval of five years by Harry Frazee's transactions with the New York Yankees. Such men as Ruth, Mays, Pennock, Jones, Bush, Hoyt, Scott, Dugan, Schang, Smith and others were traded or sold to the Yankees, who gave little except money in return.

In brief, Frazee sold the world's championship from Boston to New York. Finally, having sold everything that was not nailed down, he sold the franchise to a syndicate, headed by Bobby Quinn, then business manager of the St. Louis Browns.

Quinn's policy of reconstruction already is showing results and not a few baseball men are of the opinion that the Sox will climb as high as the head of the second division this season. Among other things, Quinn recently engineered a trade with Cleveland that was a master stroke.

He gave up George Burns, a hard-hitting first baseman, and "Chick" Fewster and Al Walters, a second-class infielder and catcher, for Catcher Steve O'Neill, Infielder Bill Wambsganss, Outfielder Connolly and Pitcher Boone.

O'Neill, although retrograding, is a far better catcher than Walters, while Wamby outranks Fewster at second base. Connolly was a .300 hitter against left-hand pitching last season and Boone was a promising prospect. In addition, the Sox have Joe Harris, a real hitter, to replace Burns, and Bobby Veach, picked up from the Tigers, as extra outfielder.

VILLA WILL BOX COAST PUGILIST

Flyweight Title at Stake in Filipino's Bout With George Marks

By ARTHUR STRUWE
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—New Yorkers are to be treated to a series of championship bouts before the indoor boxing season ends, according to plans being promoted by Tex Rickard.

The first of these title bouts will be for the flyweight championship with Pancho Villa, spectacular little Filipino dynamo, defending his title against George Marks, the Californian.

The boys will meet at Madison Square Garden on February 8 in a fifteen-round affair.

The bout will be the first in which the Filipino has essayed to defend his title in a New York ring since he battered his way to the championship over the remains of Jimmy Wilde, game little Englishman, seven months ago.

Change Attitude

The fact that Villa has accepted the terms for the match presages a change in the attitude of title holders who have been rejecting offers for indoor bouts, preferring to wait for the outdoor season of bigger crowds and larger purses.

Charlie Cook, manager of Marks, affixed his signature to the contract for the Villa bout with the understanding, however, that if the Californian lost his fight with Buck Josephs, eastsider, tonight, his chances for the title bout would be nil. There is little doubt, however, that Marks will win tonight. Since he came here from the coast he has favorably impressed boxing followers with the decisive manner in which he has scored victories over his eastern opponents.

Experts are experimenting to find a means of killing earthworms with gas.

The recent deal that send First Baseman George Burns and two other players to Cleveland from the Red Sox for two world's series heroes and two youngsters brings the records of the seven men involved into many stove league discussions these days.

The two men who checked out of the Red Sox office with Burns were Infielders Chick Fewster and Catcher Al Walters, Bill Wambsganss, star second baseman and world's series triple-play hero, and Steve O'Neill, veteran catcher and world's series star, were the main part of Cleveland's part of the trade. The other two men were Joe Connolly, an outfielder, and Jim Boone, a right-hand pitcher. O'Neill is the oldest member of the team to figure in the deal and incidentally the last member of the team which represented Cleveland in 1911. Connie Mack had Steve at one time and let him slip.

After giving him a tryout Mack farmed him to Worcester, Mass., in 1911, then run by Jess Burkett, the old-time hero. The Indians bought him outright. Steve in the thirteen campaigns he served with Cleveland became one of the greatest catchers in the game, and late in his career developed into one of the "deadest" hitters in baseball with a penchant for two-base wallops.

When he hits the ball it emits a sound like unto that from putty slapped on a plank. The ball crashes to left or right center with cannonball speed. Ray Schalk is O'Neill's only rival in service rendered. Steve has caught over 100 games a year every season since 1914. In 1920 he caught 149. In the world's series that year he caught all seven games in brilliant style and was a power at bat. A weak hitter for eight campaigns, he found his eye in 1919 and hit .289. In 1920 he hit .321. The next year he hit .322 and in 1922 hit .311. Last season he fell off to .248. He is the greatest catcher of all time in blocking a runner off home plate.

Burns broke into the big show with Detroit in 1914 and served four years there. Then Detroit, not caring to carry his contract during the war year, allowed him to go to the Athletics. Two years later he joined Cleveland. He was a big factor in the pennant drive of 1920 and then, while batting at a .361 pace, the next year he was shipped to Boston, with Joe Harris and Elmer Smith, for McInnis.

Wamby studied for the ministry at Concordia college and then signed with Cedar Rapids, Mich., in 1913. The next year the Indians bought him to fill Nap Lajoie's place at second. A couple of years later Lee Fohl, then manager, pulled a shrewd move by keeping Wamby on the bench during an active trading period, and when Boston was given its choice of the youngsters in a trade the Sox owners passed by Wamby. Bill must be ranked as one of the best second basemen in the American League.

Fewster is the youngster the Yanks believed was a coming star three years ago. Then he was hit in the head by a batted ball and now wears a plate in his head. He played with Worcester and Baltimore before joining New York. In the world's series of 1921, subbing for Babe Ruth, he hit a home run. The next year he went to Boston in a wholesale trade. He is a good infielder but a poor hitter.

Al Walters was bought by the Yankees from Waco, Texas, in 1915 and was third and second string catcher until traded to the Red Sox in 1919 with Caldwell, Gilhooley and Love for Leonard, Shore and Lewis. He cannot bat. His best mark since 1917 is .250, made last year.

Joe Connoliy is a great little outfielder, purchased from Little Rock by the Indians last year. Jim Boone hails from Alabama University.

O'Brien Is Purchaser Of Toledo Franchise

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 23.—By the purchase of 534 shares out of a total of 750, Joseph O'Brien of New York, former president of the American Association and twice secretary of the New York Giants, took over the Toledo baseball franchise yesterday.

The purchase price was not given out, but it was learned on good authority that O'Brien paid over $300,000, the highest price ever paid for a club in the American Association. Roger Bresnahan, retiring president, received $150,000 for his holdings.

THE GLENDALE

"St. Elmo," now showing at the Glendale Theatre, is the William Fox film version of Augusta J. Evans' widely read book. It was directed by Jerome Storm and contains a notable cast, including Barbara La Marr, Bessie Love, John Gilbert and Warner Baxter.

One of the most forceful scenes in the William Fox screen version of "St. Elmo," is that in which St. Elmo Thornton finds Agnes Hunt, his affianced wife, in the arms of Murray Hammond, supposedly his best friend. St. Elmo's condemnation of all humanity results from this incident, which plants the seed of hate so strongly within him that only the profound love of a sweet girl rescues him from himself.

THE GATEWAY

"Slave of Desire" is the feature film at the Gateway Theatre today, a Goldwyn picture directed by George D. Baker, from the Balzac story, "The Magic Skin," with a cast including George Walsh, Bessie Love and Carmel Myers.

The story of "Slave of Desire" (or "The Magic Skin," if you prefer the ordinary English title to Balzac's "Le Peau de Chargin") is well known. A French poet and dreamer, on the point of suicide, comes into possession of a magic skin which will grant his every wish but which will shrink with usage; when it vanishes the possessor of the skin will die. Raphael Valentin wishes for wealth and position and friends, forgetting Pauline, the little sweetheart who had gladdened the days of his poverty and struggle.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—The 1924 outlook for Los Angeles is bright, if the record of 1923 is a gauge.

Last year Los Angeles made remarkable gains in all lines. To start with, the volume of business in the recent holiday season was never bigger. The holiday trade is usually taken as a barometer of the general condition of the public pocketbook. If the public has money it spends it in the holiday season.

Bank clearings in Los Angeles for 1923 exceeded those of 1922 by $1,879,305,196 in an estimated total of $7,031,617,000. Building which totaled about $200,000,000, shows a gain of about $77,000,000.

Internal revenue bureau collections show something like $49,105,000, an increase of more than $6,323,000 over 1922. Imports reveal a gain of more than $9,000,000 and exports over $10,000,000 increase as compared with the year before.

Postal receipts in the city of Los Angeles show an increase of more than $1,237,000 over those of 1922.

The marked growth of Los Angeles is now common knowledge. Property in the city is worth $418,649,927 more than it was in 1922. The total increased valuation now is given as $1,992,068,094.

Real estate transfers for 1923 surpassed all expectations and prominent realtors refuse to hazard a prediction what they will be for 1924.

Single blessedness and oneness of purpose are essential to the woman who would succeed in a public career, Madame Elena Gerhardt, famous singer of German lieder songs, declared here in no uncertain terms while commenting upon life and art.

Mme. Gerhardt combines in concert the music of great composers and writers of her native land, Germany. She has thrilled a music-loving public with her unconscious perfection in technique and soulful harmony in presentation.

These attributes, essential to the success of a singer, are attributed by Mme. Gerhardt to single blessedness and oneness of purpose. Mme. Gerhardt has never married.

"I could not have married and succeeded in my career," she said. "The two were not possible in my life. One cannot serve two masters, you know. So I chose the public, whom I have served, and the public in return has received me delightfully. I might have had a husband had the man I loved returned my affections.

"But he didn't, so I am a singer of sweet songs, sweeter, perhaps, because of my experience, sung with more feeling than had I never loved and lost."

Dinner Stories

They tell this one around London. An old and unusually popular member of one of the clubs that line Piccadilly had for twenty years past been almost totaliy blind. Although he had laughed and drunk with his fellow members, he had never really seen them.

A wonderful eye doctor took him in hand and, after an examination, tried an operation. It was a success and his sight was restored. The club decided to give the old boy a celebratory dinner.

The great day arrived and the boys were assembled in the smoking room when the guest of honor made his appearance. He gave his boon companions the once-over for the first time, murmured, "Good God!" and staggered out of the door. He hasn't visited the club since.

ABANDON SPECIAL APPEALS TO WOMEN VOTERS

Political Parties Find Suffragists Less Of Puzzle Than Formerly

By JOHN T. LEWING, JR.
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The national political parties aren't as afraid of the woman vote as they once were. When national suffrage was granted to women (that's as polite a way to put it as any other) the Dempublican Pointers with Pride and the Replicrat Viewers with Alarm were pretty much up in the air. They couldn't guess what the women would do—most of them were married. But in the light of recent campaigns they have now decided that women aren't radically different from men in their political thinking and acting.

Consequently the parties are going to address the electorate as a whole instead of making special appeals to the men and the women and the jeune filles. The women will have their work and the men theirs in the coming presidential campaign.

Among the women expected to take prominent parts in the campaign are Mrs. Leonard Wood, wife of the governor-general of the Philippines; Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Warren, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Tiffany, of New York; Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, of Joplin, Mo., and Mrs. Maud Wood Park, of Washington.

Mrs. Wood is, of course, a Republican. Her husband may figure prominently in the Republican national convention. Mrs. Upton was vice chairman of the Republican executive committee in the Harding campaign, a sort of right bower to Will Hays. Mrs. Tiffany, who was long active in the suffrage movement in New York, is a pronounced Democrat. Alice Paul, the founder of the Woman's Party, is now its vice president. Mrs. Belmont is president of the National Women's Party. Mrs. Park is president of the National League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization. Mrs. Blair won the plaudits of the Democrats in the last campaign by her work as a member of the national committee of the party.

It would not be surprising if some of these women and several others were given courtesy votes in the national conventions of the party. When the balloting is not close, a few of the delegates probably will cast a ballot for a woman for presidential nomination.

There is a small circle of women—perhaps it is larger than Washington calculates—who are demanding that women be nominated for vice president on both tickets. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont goes further and suggests that the National Women's Party nominate a presidential candidate.

Political leaders fail to see any peril to the men candidates in such a move as Mrs. Belmont suggests. They calculate it will be a good many years before a woman is seriously considered as a candidate for president. But who knows?

On the Spur of the Moment

TO H. M. S.

Sure, me heart is just swellin'
With love for ye, Helen,
But, indade, I'm not tellin'
For you'd only laugh at me.

So, I'll not declare it,
Tho I may come nare it,
For I couldn't bear it,
To have ye poke chaff at me.

An' so, ye shweet divil,
I'll just trate ye civil,
Perhaps, on the livil,
I'll aiven git sore at ye.

Now be very gintle,
Mild, shweet, sintimintal.
Don't be instrumintal
In makin' me roar at ye.

Plaize, then, undershtand me,
An' don't reprimand me.
Oi'd rather ye'd hand me
A smak with your glove.

An' if, whin we're meetin',
By way of a greetin',

There is going to be a sweeping reduction in the pay of motion picture "artists." It will certainly be fierce for some of those flappers to live on less than $10,000 a week, and we are thinking some of getting up a subscription for them.

Bridge fans will appreciate this story, told by a returning European traveler. Bridge is one of the most popular pastimes on shipboard and this young man spent a great deal of his time playing with the ship surgeon and two friends. The surgeon was wont to impress on one of the young men, who was more or less a novice at the game, over and over: "Thousands of men are walking the streets of London because they didn't lead out trumps."

The day after the boat landed, the young man thus impressed became slightly spifflicated, so to speak. Strolling unsteadily in Piccadilly, he happened to see a rather worn individual, and, walking up to him, he managed to ask rather huskily: "Are you walking the streets of Lunnon because you didn't lead out trumps?"

The individual thus addressed smiled slightly, then solemnly answered: "No, Guv-nor, I trumped my partner's aces."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SUSIE'S SLIP

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Come on! Come on!" A jolly voice cried this outside the hollow stump bungalow one afternoon. The rabbit gentleman, who had just come in from hopping across the fields, looked up.

"Did you hear that?" he asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Yes," she answered, "I did. But don't you go out, Uncle Wiggily."

"Why not?" he inquired.

"Because it might be the Fuzzy Fox ready to nibble you for having shot icicle arrows at him yesterday."

"I'll look from the window," said the bunny gentleman, "and if it is the Fox I won't go out." So, when he had looked he twinkled his pink nose—Uncle Wiggily did—and cried: "Hurray! It's Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl. She's all right—Susie won't nibble me!"

Uncle Wiggily hopped out of his hollow stump bungalow. Nurse Jane, seeing him and watching how sprply he hopped, shook her head and murmured:

"He gets younger and more foolish every day!"

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" greeted Susie when she saw the bunny gentleman. "Come on with me, please!"

"Where?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"I'm going over to the tree house of Mrs. Bushytail, the squirrel lady," answered Susie. "My mother wants me to borrow a few nuts to put on top of a chocolate cake. So you come with me, 'cause mother said I might stay a little while and play with Johnnie and Billie, and you can have fun, too."

"Hum! Yes," remarked Uncle Wiggily, looking back toward the bungalow to see if Nurse Jane might be watching him "Yes, those squirrel boys have gathered plenty of nuts, I should say, and their mother will be gald to lend your mother some for a cake. I suppose I might go with you to see that everything is all right."

"Oh, goodie!" cried Susie. "Come on!"

So Susie and Uncle Wiggily hopped over the fields and through the woods to the tree where the Bushytail squirrels lived. Their home was partly in a nest house and partly in a hollow hole of the tree trunk.

The tree house of the squirrels was high up from the ground, but Johnnie, Billie and the other squirrels had no trouble in getting up. They climbed the tree, for they had sharp little claws, almost like those of Tommie, Jole and Kittie Kat.

"But we can't climb the tree, Uncle Wiggily, so how are we going to get up?" asked Susie, when they were almost at the squirrel tree.

"We'll go up in the elevator," laughed the bunny gentleman. And, surely enough, Johnnie and Billie had rigged up an elevator so that their friends who could not climb trees could come up to see them.

The elevator was a basket on a rope and the rope was wound up on a windlass and crank, like the bucket in an old-fashioned well. Uncle Wiggily and Susie got in the basket and Uncle Wiggily called:

"Take us up, please!"

Johnnie and Billie turned the handle, wound the rope around the windlass and up came the basket with the visitors.

"We are very glad to see you," said Mrs. Bushytail and she told Susie and Johnnie and Billie to play for a while until she talked to Uncle Wiggily. The rabbit gentleman and squirrel lady were speaking about the weather and wondering if it would snow when all of a sudden Billie chattered:

"Oh! Oh! Oh!"

"What is it?" cried his mother.

"Susie slipped! Susie slipped!" chattered Johnnie. "She was was looking down in the big hollow place where we keep the nuts and she slipped in. Susie's at the bottom of the nut cellar!"

These Bushytail squirrels did as the red squirrels do and placed their winter nuts in a deep hollow of the tree. And, as Johnnie had said, Susie slipped down into this hollow.

"Well, can't Susie climb up, as you boys would climb if you fell into the nut cellar?" asked Mrs. Bushytail.

"Oh, no!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Neither Susie nor I have climbing claws. Poor Susie can't get up!"

And she couldn't! There she was deep down in a large hollow limb of the tree. Uncle Wiggily, looking down, could see the little rabbit girl and he could hear her cry:

"Oh, how can I get up? How can I ever get out?"

"I know how we can help her out?" suddenly chattered Johnnie.

"How?" asked his brother.

"We'll take a little basket, fasten it to a rope and lower it down in the nut cellar like the outside elevator. Susie can get in the basket and we'll pull her up!"

Up came the basket.

No sooner said than done. Down into the deep hollow the basket on the end of a rope was lowered. Susie crept into it and then Uncle Wiggily, Mrs. Bushytail and the two squirrels pulled Susie up.

"Don't slip again, my dear," warned Uncle Wiggily, as she got out of the basket.

"No, ma'am, I won't," promised Susie. Then she and Uncle Wiggily went home carrying the nuts which Mrs. Littletail put on a chocolate cake, and very good it was, too.

And if the jumping Jack doesn't try to stand on one leg and kick the football with his nose, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Billie's horns.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

TOO, TOO THIN?

Isn't it your observation that three-fourths of our adult population are overweight, one-fourth underweight, the rest normal? I said this in a previous article, and I'll stick to it. It is one way of saying that there are no normals. Hasn't it been your experience that most of your friends are either trying to get thin or fat?

We have finished repeating our series addressed to the three-fourths telling them how to reduce, so now we will begin to talk a little to the one-fourth and run the gaining course again.

Why don't you gain? Because, 99 cases out of 100, you have not been eating enough to supply your needs, much less to have a surplus left over to gain on.

In my book on weight reduction I have called the thin people who want to gain "Deluded Ones," for I said I couldn't get their point of view. How anyone could want to be anything but thin was beyond my comprehension. But as I realized that there were such individuals I was constrained to give them advice. And I guaranteed they would realize their ambition if they followed it.

Since writing that, I have heard from very many cases who have gained just as I promised, so I can vouch that my advice is worth while. I am going to give you some on the same order. For though I should write a hundred years on gaining and losing the basis would have to be the same—and that basis is a knowledge of diet and exercise (and some psychology) and the application of them.

With adults, as with babies, while weight is not the only thing to go by in judging the physical condition, it is the most important single point. For with adults, as with babies, the maintenance of normal weight must preclude any serious disorder.

The rule I have given for finding one's normal weight, I shall repeat, in case some of you have not seen it.

Rule for Finding Ideal Net Adult Weight

Multiply the number of inches over five feet in height, in stocking feet, by five and a half. Add 110. If you are under five feet in height multiply the inches under five feet by five and one-half and subtract from 110. In other words, if you are five feet in height you are allowed 110 pounds. For every inch over or under you are allowed five and one-half pounds, more or less, respectively. (This does not mean that one cannot vary five per cent, or so above or below and still be normal. But it gives us a standard to go by).

Our statistics show that underweight in childhood, adolescence and young maturity is a much more grave condition than underweight after full maturity. If underweight in early years, there is a much lowered resistance to tuberculosis and other infectious diseases.

Just as overweight tends to fatigue, lack of energy and lowered resistance, so does much underweight, at any age. You should gain to normal weight, and you can.

Of course, I am assuming that you are originally sound—though even if you're not, we'll see what we can do—and that you are not chronically addicted to drugs, like nicotine, too much tea or coffee, and other things.

Healthy animals can be fattened—all farmers will tell you that. It is done by increasing their rations or decreasing their activities. That's your cue.

The thin person who over-eats is as rare as the fat person who under-eats. I never have met either of 'em. I have met thin persons who were consuming large amounts of foods with practically no energy or calorie value, totally unbalanced. Counting their calories usually shows that they are not getting sufficient food for a lusty infant.

Now, I repeat (I have to do a lot of repeating) you do not eat enough for your activities, 99 times out of 100, no matter if you do eat more than some fat person you know of.

Tomorrow—You Can Gain

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

HICKORY SWITCH ENDS ROMANCE

Childhood Sweethearts Rudely Torn Apart

Thomas Elbert Bloodworth and his bride, Ludie Watson.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 17.—A hickory switch convinced Thomas Elbert Bloodworth, 15, for the time being that wedded bliss is a chimera. Old hickory, applied unstintedly by his mother, blighted his romance and dissolved his marriage with Ludie Watson, 17.

Twenty-seven hours after they were married, Thomas and Ludie were separated, annulment proceedings instituted by both families, and the husband with Miss Lula Millirons, former postmistress at Crump's Park, Ga., and George O'Dell arrested on warrants charging kidpaning. Miss Millirons and O'Dell are accused of being the "matchmakers."

For a time an epidemic of child marriages in this section has been ended. There had been three other elopements of school students within a few weeks preceding the Bloodworth-Watson venture. All of the participants attended Lanier high school, where W. L. "Young" Stribling, the pugilist, is a senior.

"How'd you like to have your home broken up?" is Thomas' wailing response to all who attempt to reason with him about the dissolution of his marriage.

The pair intend to get married again when they "grow up."

No action has been taken against the clerk who issued the license or the minister who performed the ceremony.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

TROUBLESOME SISTER

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am eighteen years old and considered very good-looking and popular. My sister is twenty-one and she has never had a boy friend. When boys come to see me she is always interfering and telling my father and mother what they ought to do. No one I go with is just right and my sister always has a good reason why I should not be allowed to go to certain dances with certain boys. She doesn't understand a bit because she has never gone with boys. My mother almost always takes my sister's part and my father takes mine. It makes me absolutely miserable to have a fight every time I want to go anywhere. I am always allowed to go in the end, but by that time my pleasure is spoiled. What would you advise me to do.

YOUNGER SISTER.

Since your father is on your side, talk your troubles over with him and see if he can't intercede for you. It is a great misfortune when inharmony creeps into the home circle in such a needless way. Since you are permitted to have the boy friends you want and to go places with them sooner or later, all the fuss is most futile. You are of an age now to be trusted in your choice of friends and amusement. It would be far better if you were not opposed in everything you want to do. An occasional criticism has far more weight than everlasting nagging. Your poor sister thinks she is interested in your welfare, but from her lack of experience with boys she is too critical and too deeply concerned in your affairs.

STRAINED FRIENDSHIP

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have had a very dear girl chum for two years. She has been at my house or I have been at hers almost every day during that time. We go to the same school and are in the same class and so we have been very much interested in each other.

One day she came to school and would not even speak to me. I spoke to her as usual, but she turned her head away and wouldn't recognize me. I couldn't imagine what was wrong, but it made me cry to be treated so by my best friend. At first I couldn't believe that she didn't want to speak and so the next time we met I tried to speak to her again, but she just looked a hole through me and didn't recognize me at all.

I don't know what to do because I can't understand the way she is acting at all. Do you think it would be all right to write her a letter and say that I know she must think she has a reason to be angry, but I am at a loss to know the reason, I thought for old times' sake she might answer me and perhaps I could straigten out whatever is worrying her.

Do you think it would be all right for me to write since I know I have done nothing to offend her?

MISUNDERSTOOD.

Yes, I think it would be all right for you to let your friend know that you are in ignorance of the thing which has offended her and that for old times' sake you would appreciate an explanation from her, so that you may right your wrong if possible. Surely she ought to do that much for you, and if she ignores your request, try to forget all about the matter. You are not to suffer because you are treated unjustly.

ARLENE: No, it wouldn't be proper.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

CAN YOU WEAR VEILS?

Unfortunately a veil always makes a woman look older. On the other hand, it is extremely becoming to certain types, and if properly adjusted is always smart looking. It is sometimes, though not always, hard on the eyesight, but it frequently protects the complexion from winds that blow too swiftly or cold that is to biting.

The choice of a veil is important. A fine mesh is easier on the eyes than one with bold, dark lines. Woven or embroidered designs should never go over the eyes, both for the sake of the sight and for the sake of good taste. I remember once sitting in a street car opposite a woman who wore a cobweb meshed veil appropriately decorated with embroidered spiders. It was necessary to look at her eyes through the spider's legs, and the effect, to say the very best, was rather gruesome.

Veils should always be dark. Dark brown or black will bring out the rich colors in the skin of a brunette, while grays, blue-gray or royal blue will bring out the delicacy of a blonde's skin even more than black. The woman with a well shaped chin can wear a veil tightly adjusted, but the woman with a receding chin should manage to let the lower part of the veil be loose, otherwise her nose will stand out too prominently.

But the chief value of veils is to keep the hair from blowing about. Unfortunately they are apt to make the hair pack so tightly around the face as to be unbecoming. If your hair blows in untidy wisps about the face and a veil does not become you, wear a loosely adjusted cap-shaped hair net all the time, and over this when you go out a second hair net a little more tightly adjusted. This will hold the hair in on the most windy day, but without hiding it as a veil would.

A veil makes a girl look older

M. W.—A girl of 18, height five feet one inch, could weigh about 110 pounds. Five pounds less in your case, however, would not mean that you were underweight. Olive oil taken with your meals, about three tablespoonsful daily, will build up your weight.

Interested G.—If you can have the most offending hairs destroyed by the electric needle, that is the best way to rid yourself of this trouble. If that is not possible, extract them by using tweezers and bleach the finer hair with peroxide. Olive oil used as a massage for the bust will nourish, and it will not cause hair to grow.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Who's Who in the Day's News

DR. ERNEST CHUARD

Switzerland, surrounded on all sides by economic and social distress as she was lately surrounded by war, has followed the example of other European countries in time of stress and called a college professor to guide her destinies. At her annual and almost automatic presidential election just held she has chosen Dr. Ernest Chuard as chief of the nation for 1924. Dr. Chuard was vice-president last year.

The new executive was born in 1857 at Corcelles, near Payerne, in French-speaking Switzerland. He studied chemistry at Lausanne and at Wurzburg and from 1880 to 1913 he was a professor at Lausanne University and director of the Lausanne city experimental station for grape growing.

For years he has been an adviser of that eminent institution, the Federal Polytechnic Institute, at Zurich. His qualities as a scientist and an educator have also brought him election as a member of the Federal Education Commission. Under the supervision as special commissioner the work of the Swiss agricultural experiment stations has been carried on in late years.

The president-elect is also a newspaper man. He founded and published an agricultural journal that recently became absorbed in the Terre Vaudoise. He is an active member of the Vaud Press Association.

Dr. Chuard entered political life in 1889 as a member of the Lausanne Municipal Council. In 1907 he was elected to the Swiss House of Representatives, or National Council, and two years thereafter his fellow-citizens sent him to the State Assembly; nor were they satisfied until they had made him state senator from Vaud, though he still held his mandate as national councilor.

In his various political positions his literary and scientific knowledge has made him a power. He is a leading authority in economics. In the war he served as food administrator of Vaud and as the local representative of the federal commission to safeguard Swiss neutrality, and he was an internationall known member of the famous S. S. S., or Swiss Surveillance Society. In the Swiss army he rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

The federal assembly in 1919 elected Dr. Chuard to the Federal Council, the highest political rank a man can hope for in Switzerland. He succeeded Camille Decoppet, who had been named director of the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union.

Since then Dr. Chuard has had charge of the Department of the Interior.

It is an accepted fact, the world over, that French and Italian cookery is more savory than that of any other nations. The cooks of these two countries are masters in seasoning foods. Here are some Italian dishes which you will enjoy:

Cauliflower "in Stufato"; Wash a good-sized cauliflower then break up into "flowerets" and cook these, in salted water for 20 or 30 minutes, till tender. Drain them from the water without breaking, and arrange them on slices of buttered toast. In the meantime, make a sauce (to pour over them) as follows: Put three tablespoons of butter in a frying pan, and when melted rub into it two tablespoons of flour; add two cups of canned chicken soup (or any soup stock you have on hand) and when it boils, add also six finely chopped cooked mushrooms (the canned variety will do); remove this hot mixture from the fire and add to it the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, one-half teaspoon of salt, a pinch of pepper, a pinch of grated nutmeg and the juice of one small lemon. Pour this sauce over the vegetable and serve at once. (Take care not to let the sauce boil after you add the eggs.)

Bocconcini: Either lamb, veal or fresh pork may be used in making this dish. Cut up the meat (using one-half pound of it) into pieces two inches square—perhaps a little larger. Sprinkle the pieces with salt and pepper and set them aside. Now cut an equal number of pieces of bread about one-half inch thick and a little larger than the meat-pieces. Next cut sliced ham into pieces the size of the meat (out use twice as much ham as the prepared meat-pieces). Now take a skewer and spear on it first a piece of bread, then a piece of ham, then a leaf of sage, then a piece of the meat first prepared, then another sage leaf, then still another piece of ham—and so on, in this order, always having the meat between two leaves of sage, two slices of ham and two pieces of bread. Coat everything well (especially the bread) with olive oil or melted butter, and broil the entire stickful over a hot fire for about 20 minutes— turning constantly till they are a golden brown and crisp. Or, if you prefer, you can place the skewerful of meat and bread pieces in your oven on a pan to bake. Serve hot.

Macaroni 'a la San Giovannello' —Put into a frying pan one tablespoon of butter and one-half pound chopped ham-fat. When the grease is colored, put into it the more solid parts of a can of tomatoes; let cook slightly then add three-fourths of a pound of macaroni previously cooked tender. Let bubble up, season with salt and pepper and serve with grated Parmesan cheese.

FINANCIAL RELIEF NORTHWEST NEED

Conference of Bankers Held in Chicago as More Institutions Fail

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—While news was trickling in from the west Tuesday, telling of the closing of two more banks in Montana and two others in South Dakota, a conference of governmental and private financial authorities was in session here, planning fiscal relief for the northwest.

When the meeting was resumed today, after having gone far into the night, Henry M. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, announced that progress had not then reached a point where a statement could be made.

Just who are the private bankers attending the conference was not revealed, although it was made known that besides Dawes, George R. James and J. H. Cunningham of the Federal Reserve board, and Eugene Meyer, Jr., head of the war finance corporation, were present.

Presidential Committee

They compose a committee requested by President Coolidge to investigate the northwest's financial plight. The Security State bank of Havre, Mont., with deposits of more than $700,000 at the close of the year, was reported in private messages to Chicago Tuesday, to have closed its doors.

Stockholders of the Stockmen's National bank of Fort Benton, Mont., voted to liquidate the bank's affairs voluntarily. The president insisted the institution was solvent.

Red Army Ready to Engulf Europe, Claim

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A Russian communist army of 600,000 men stands upon the eastern border of Europe ready to spread bolshevism across the old continent by might of arms, Senator William H. King, Democrat, of Utah, told the senate in a speech covering his recent five months' tour of the soviet republic.

The direct charge that the communist party of America was working hand in hand with the communist party of Russia in seeking the overthrow of existing governmental institutions was made to the senate committee investigating Russian recognition by A. W. Kliefoth, assistant chief of the eastern European affairs division of the state department.

CHICAGO'S OPERA COMPANY TO TOUR

Seventeen Cities Will Get Opportunity of Seeing Stars This Year

By KENNETH HARRIS
For International News Service.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Chicago's Civic Opera Company will blaze a trail of harmony for 10,000 miles at the close of the opera season in Chicago January 26 and in a period of eight weeks will present grand opera in seventeen cities. The itinerary includes cities from Boston in the east to Houston in the south, to San Francisco on the Pacific coast.

Two special trains will be required to carry the approximately 225 people and the equipment neceessary for the presentation.

Coming to L. A.

C. A. Shaw, manager of the tour, has completed arrangements for the appearances of the company in Boston, the first city on the itinerary, beginning January 28 and ending February 9. From Boston the company will entrain for Cleveland, thence to Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cincinnati, Chattanooga, Tulsa, Houston, Dallas, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Salt Lake City, Denver, Wichita. The tour will wind up at Kansas City, Mo., March 22.

Feodore Chaliapin will have the title role in "Doris Godunoff" and will appear, with Edith Mason, in "Mefistofele." Mme. Rosa Raisax will be the Rachel of "The Jewess"—a role in which she has never been excelled, according to critics. Mary Garden will be Cleopatra.

About Stars

Mme. Claudia Muzio, dramatic soprano, will appear in Boston and Cleveland, and, instead of continuing with the company, will go to Havana, Cuba, to fill an engagement and later to Mexico City. It is understood she is planning to return to Chicago next autum.

Myrna Sharlow, Alice d'Hermanoy, Lucie Weston, Kathryn Browne, Maria Claessens, Forest Lamont, Angelo Minghetti, Jose Mojica, Harry Steier, Georges Baklanoff, Giacomo Rimini, Desire Defrere, William Beck, Gildo Morelato, Alexander Kipnis and Virgilio Lazzari are some of the artists who will make their appearances on the national tour. Practically the entire company will go to Boston for the fortnight's engagement there.

BEST TRAFFIC CONTROL

Detroit, Mich., is said to have the best traffic control system of any city in the United States.

BURBANK

RUSH CONTRACTS IN BENMAR HILLS

Awards Call for Expense of Almost $1,000,000 on Big Subdivision

Nearly $1,000,000 in new contracts have been let at Benmar Hills within the last few days. One of the largest is to George A. Simpson for road building.

A force of men under F. Curt Miller, city engineer, is engaged in extending the city water system to the tract and putting in lights, while the Southern California Gas company is reported to be arranging to supply gas service.

A change has been made in the program for University avenue, making it even more beautiful. This 266-foot boulevard will be one of the finest in the world when finished, claim the Olmstead Brothers, world renouned landscape people at work on the tract. The plan now contemplates a central mall 126 feed in width, on each side of which will be 30-foot driveways, then 40-foot strips to the left and right, with 15-foot sidewalks down the center, and a row of trees on each side.

It is understood the restrictions on University avenue are not under $20,000. When completed, Burbank will have in this magnificent boulevard a rialto as fine as any in Europe, feel the Olmstead Brothers, who have studied landscaping in every civilized country of the world.

Cuts Down Costly Tree

John Ghigo is exactly $282,50 poorer today, and the city of Burbank at least is $2000 poorer, because the former undertook to cut down a tree on his Alameda avenue premises without taking the wind into consideration or notifying the latter.

F. Curt Miller, city engineer, is without voice, moreover, and a big 15,000 volt Kellman switch operating the main control has gone to its fathers, while other and sundry damages have resulted from said tree falling over a 2000-volt wire and crossing it with a small line already carrying its limit of 300 volts.

The $282.50 is the cash damages Mr. Ghigo paid when haled before Judge A. A. Crawford on a charge of criminal negligence. The $2000 or more the city is set back represents among other damages, the cost of a 200-kilowat transformer blown out as a probable result of the overload. And Engineer Miller's voice is temporarily incapacitated by reason of his being present when the 15,000 volt Kellman switch blew up, shooting hot oil and vapor clear to the ceiling, a good deal of which was inhaled by Mr. Miller, whose hand threw the mighty switch.

All in all, it was a very exciting tree-cutting party, and might have resulted in one or more fatalities. Had Mr. Ghigo reported hitting the wires with the tree at once after the mishap, the damage would not have exceeded $10, Mr. Miller declares, a day and a night being required to locate the cause of the trouble in the circuit.

SANITARIUM BURNS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 23.—The Phoenix sanitarium, which has been used as a United States government contract hospital for the care of disabled veterans, was destroyed by fire Monday. All patients were taken out safely.

Story of the Clocks
Coolidge Shows Strength
Lenine, Red Dictator, Dies
Capitalism Saves Russia

—By Gil A. Cowan—

For two days we have noted the morning papers—and The Glendale Evening News of the night before. We find that, through the superior International News Service leased wire, we are fifteen to eighteen hours ahead with the news of the day.

And there is a reason—the story told by the clocks. The Glendale Evening News, which has a news deadline of 3 o'clock in the afternoon and is distributed by 5 o'clock, is able to chronicle the events in eastern centers up to 6 o'clock.

Practically all important news events occur during the workaday hours of 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. People are up and at things, Congress is in session, Wall street is in full swing at midday, which is morning here on the coast.

Outside of an occasional catastrophe, the news of the day is available to The Glendale Evening News. By having expert writers in the field, working exclusively for International News Service, the best accounts of what has happened are obtained. They are brief, concise facts, which are well worthy of first-page publication.

The Glendale Evening News, however, does not depend on reader interest in the FIRST and BEST telegraphic news. It has an efficient corps of local reporters; it has the very best magazine and women's page features available; it has the local store and classified advertising in the largest measure; and it is the official paper of the city of Glendale.

The Glendale Evening News is a good newspaper which you can commend to your friends. We are sure this is appreciated by the ever-increasing family of NEWS readers.

President Coolidge in the last twenty-four hours has taken two decisive steps in the way of independent assertiveness which will serve him well in the coming campaign. The first was to endorse a bill giving aid to the farmers who need it in diversification. The second was to order a searching investigation of the Teapot Dome oil lease.

The public is entitled to know the facts about former Secretary Albert B. Fall's action while heading the interior department. There seems to be considerable smoke in the Sinclair oil deals, and where there is smoke fire is likely to be found.

Governmental aid at this hour to the agricultural interests, particularly in the northwest, is essential, for America is prosperous, although the farmers are not. They are bearing the burden of taxation, as producers always do.

Mr. Coolidge will gain friends by action. Lack of virility has cost many political leaders their place in the sun. Congressmen might note that truism, also.

Nicolai Lenine is dead. Dictator of the soviet government, he made himself a power felt in the whole civilized world, yet he was only mortal, and fell heir to human ills.

Radical to the limit of endurance, he spoke in socialistic terms and acted with imperialistic power. He was a communist and a tyrant in one. He was respected and hated. He had innate ability and dangerous designs. He was a child of circumstances. Whether he made the most of them remains to be seen as it is written on the pages of history a hundred years hence.

We read of Moscow bowed in grief. Certainly, the soviet government has lost a great leader. He will be their martyr, no doubt, but Russia has a long list of martyrs. It is a brooding nation which hatches half of the world's agitators. And it is to be hoped that Leo Kameniev, slated successor to Lenine, is equally capable in keeping radical Russia from overwhelming itself.

"Capitalism Saves Russia" is the title of timely comment by The Hollywood Citizen editor, which follows:

"Communism in Russia has been postponed for a couple of generations," says a returned Russian-American traveler. "It was a failure, and the country is returning to capitalism. The government says the people are not ready for it, that they still like individual rewards for individual efforts."

So Russians, after all, are very much like other races. And Russian officials are very much like public officials elsewhere. When they find that a theoretical program will not work, and their administration is doomed to failure unless it changes its program, they go ahead and change. When they run square up against basic facts in human nature, they surrender to human nature. Theory, in public administration, always has to yield to facts sooner or later.

The result is seen in the increasing improvement in the life of the people. "When I went to Russia, eighteen months ago," says the traveler, "I saw children begging at the railway stations. There is none of that now. There is no censorship, no starvation, little poverty. It is hard to visualize the complete change that has taken place."

So hated "capitalism" is saving Russia, after all. It has its defects, but it happens to be the only system at present on this earth which will stimulate men and women to sufficient economic production to keep society alive and moving.

Eventually the desire for personal gain may be supplanted by a general desire to work for the community. If so, socialism will come as a matter of course. But that will probably take more than "a couple of generations," in Russia or elsewhere.

EAGLE ROCK

ALL COMMITTEES IN C. OF C. BUSY

Activity in Every Branch of Organization's Work Is Shown by Members

Reports from the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce indicate that many committees are active. The publicity committee is preparing a new community booklet. The sewer committee recently submitted its findings to the board of public works. The parks and playgrounds committee is attempting to obtain a playground site. The transportation committee has called a meeting for tomorrow night, Thursday, January 24, at 8 o'clock, at the Eagle Rock school, when all affiliated organizations will get together and further discuss this much argued subject.

A new greenhouse is the latest addition to the agricultural department of the Eagle Rock school, where such notable progress has been made by the pupils under the direction of Mr. Shaver.

Pastor Makes Statement

To clear up a great deal of misapprehension about the plans of the Methodist church for a new structure on Colorado boulevard, a block or so east of Eagle Rock boulevard, Rev. Edward J. Bradner, pastor, makes the following statement:

"For several years the Methodist church has sought to move and build a new house of worship on the Colorado boulevard site. However, owing to building restrictions that are written in the deeds on that particular tract, limiting it to residences only, and that only one house on a lot, the church has been held up in its program for city betterment, and its own improvement. In order to get owners to sign off, every inducement has been offered, such as building back to the line 45 feet from the walk, providing parking space off the street for automobiles, etc. But up to date a very small minority is blocking the deal.

"The church feels that the public ought to know it desires to fulfill the wish of the business interests and to make way and that it is not its fault that business is blocked. Unless the restrictions are removed soon the church will be compelled to consider building on the present location. The fact that restrictions have already been broken could no doubt be proved in court, but the church does not like to go to court, preferring unanimous good will in its neighbors. The move would greatly improve all properties in the vicinity, and I am sure would increase real estate values greatly in the near future."

The local post of the American Legion has agreed to sponsor the first troop of the reorganized Boy Scouts and development of this troop is to begin at once under the supervision of Dr. C. M. Hensley. first vice-commander of the post.

Scoutmaster Hensley will be assisted in this work by such well known local business men as C W. Pearl, who will be chairman of the Legion committee on Scout affairs; L. B. McKelvey, newly elected commander; R. C. Hainbaugh and many others.

Educator Speaks At Teachers' Club Meet

Miss Ida Christine Iverson of Los Angeles, president of the classroom department of the National Educational association was the speaker yesterday afternoon at the January meeting of the City Teachers' club that was held in the auditorium at the Broadway school. Miss Iverson's address was on "Class Rooms", a subject of general interest to her listeners, and she also gave a short sketch of the early history of the National Educational association, its founding in 1857, its development, and what it has accomplished for the benefit of the teacher's profession and the entire world.

Superintendent R. D. White addressed the assemblage briefly, giving a condensed report of the discussion that had taken place at the Chamber of Commerce meeting, and outlining the situation in regard to the proposed consolidation of the school systems of the city. Special music numbers included cornet solos, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" and "The Rosary" by Ivan Dow, and "A Song of Liberty" by the City Teachers' Choral club.

The president, Mrs. Ogden Ryan presided at the short business meeting following the close of the program.

Court Delays Action in Lawyer Roth's Trial

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—While Barbara La Marr, film luminary, sat in superior court today prepared to testify against Herman Roth, Hollywood attorney, accused of extortion and grand larceny, it was decided after a conference between attorneys and Judge Avery that the case be continued until February 1. A congested calendar caused the delay.

The actress was visibly fretted by the delay in reaching the decision.

MONTROSE

GLENDALE ARTIST WILL ENTERTAIN

Mrs. Evelyn Pierce to Appear at Community Sing in Foothill Town

Community sing—where? Why, in our school house. It will be a dandy, too. Wherefore? Because the well-known Glendale dramatic reader and singer, Mrs. Evelyn Pierce, will be on hand to help entertain us with her wit and humor.

Tell you what, the Glendale people are great. Last week we had his honor, the singing mayor, and all his family with us, and this week Mrs. Pierce is coming up. It should encourage the home folks to support this splendid civic improvement, for when outsiders give it their loyal support the home folk should see it's a big thing for their community.

Come out this week, at least, at 8 sharp. Time is limited, as the director, who is giving his services gratis, comes from Glendale also. Mrs. Hopkins promises an evening worth while and she generally manages to provide what's promised.

The new Montrose bakery, with storeroom in the Montrose Community market, hit upon a novel plan for advertising their opening. Into two separate loaves of Saturday's baking went a five-dollar gold piece. The lucky winners were Miss Stephenson of 516 Honolulu avenue and Avis Hedges of 338 East Piedmont.

On Saturday of this week a new haberdashery will be opened in the Theo. Belanger building. The new firm's name will be Harding & Brown. Announcement in full will be made later.

Church Is Growing

The Community Methodist church, with Reverend Durr at its head, is making rapid strides in every way. James Brown, Sunday school superintendent, states the attendance last Sunday was an even 100, which, when it is considered the church was started only a few months ago, is a splendid announcement.

The ladies of the First Methodist Episcopal and Central churches of Glendale are to give a shower to the Montrose Ladies' Aid on Thursday of next week at 2 p. m. The shower will be of the things needed by the local Aid in serving suppers and dinners. All ladies of the entire valley are most cordially invited to be present at the Methodist Community church on Orangedale, just off Montrose avenue. Reverend Durr keeps up the vital interest of his church by his truly remarkable sermons, which interest young and old alike. The church has lately received a new coat of white paint, which greatly improves its appearance.

Children of the Wilson school in Glendale hiked up the trails to Strong's Castle on Saturday. They were all rather tired on taking the cars home, but all were most enthusiastic over the view, the woods, hills and, in fact, everything up our way.

State and National Societies to Meet

There are four events scheduled to take place this week in Los Angeles, that are of interest to Glendalians, who are not native Californians.

The first affair is the celebration of Robert Burns' birthday anniversary tonight in the Music Art hall at 233 South Broadway under the auspices of the Caledonian club. A program of real worth is to be presented, including vocal, instrumental and dance numbers.

On Thursday night there will be a meeting of the Rhode Island society in the Business Women's clubhouse at 337½ South Hill street, and a meeting of all former Oklahomans in the Victory post hall at 327½ South Hill street.

The South Dakota State society will hold its all-day midwinter picnic at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Saturday, January 26, 1924. This event is expected to outclass any former gatherings in attendance and interest. C. B. Johnson is president and James S. Bishop is secretary.
